The Bates
Mirror.

Dedication

TO the man who has been responsible for the continued success of Bates teams in track and cross country we dedicate the 1926 MIRROR. Modest, quiet and unassuming, he is constantly at work uncovering new prospects and improving old ones, developing character as well as ability. The feeling which his men have for him is his greatest tribute. Every year has seen Bates champion in its class at the Penn Relays, the laurel crowning the efforts of our team in two classes last year, while two Bates cross country teams have won New England championships. We hope that this success will continue and that Coach Chester Albert Jenkins will direct our destiny in his branch of athletic endeavor for many years to come.

In Memoriam

The beauty of a great life never dies,
It is a spirit thing,
Like the flaming glory of a sunset sky,
Or a faint breath of spring;
Or rare old music played upon the heart,
By us half understood,
It enters in our being, forms a part
Of all we longed to be,—
Yet never could.

We have rich memories of him whose face
We shall not see again;
We see him in his long-accustomed place,
We hear his voice, and then
That low, deep chuckle—the twinkling of his eyes,
As though life held in store
For every moment some unguessed surprise,
A glimpse of hidden beauty
Unperceived before.

Wiser than others are, and yet as kind,
He searched out priceless treasures
From the golden storehouse of his mind,
And gave them without measure.
And then we only guessed a little part
Of all that he was; the scroll
Was hidden from our eyes, but in our hearts
We sensed the perfect calm
And greatness of his soul.

Far greater than the world had ever known him,
Far humbler than we ever thought,
For time had given its best; the past had shown him
Things we comprehended not.
But how know the whole before the part is learned?
It is enough that we have stayed
A little while with him—that he has turned
Our thoughts to higher, nobler things,—
And then marched on, quite unafraid.

LORING RALPH ADDITON, B. S. "Ad"

Curtis Corner, Maine

"He was so good he would pour rose-water on a toad."

Born November 21, 1904, Leeds, Maine; Leavitt Institute 1921; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Atlas 4.

In "Ad" we have a good-natured, jolly sort of fellow who is well liked by all the Parker Hall boys. His good disposition has helped to brighten up many a dull evening in Parker Hall. We'd say that he hasn't taken many cuts in Music Hall. "Ad's" what we call a good sport. Nobody ever suggested going somewhere or doing something and found him wanting. We feel sure that this young man will make his mark in whatever he attempts after he leaves us.

VIRGINIA WHITTIER AMES, A. B. "Gin"

Skowhegan, Maine

"True and tender, brave and just,
That man might honor and woman trust."

Born May 18, 1904, Skowhegan, Maine; Skowhegan High School 1922; Alethea 2, 3; Seniority 4; Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Orphic 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane 2, 3, 4; Sec. 3; Vice Pres. 4; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Outing Club, Director 3; Conventions Committee 2, 3; Religious Meetings 4; Athletic Board Manager Basket Ball 3; Student Gov't House Senior 4; Student Council 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4 Capt. 1; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4, Capt. 4; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3,. Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2; Tennis 1, 2, 3; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Medal; Cup.

A clever athlete, a dignified house senior and an accomplished violinist—that's our "Gin". An impossible combination, you say? Nothing's impossible when "Gin" attempts it. On the hockey and soccer field she bows to none and even on the tennis court she gives "Babe" some uncomfortable moments.

JAMES PETER ANAPAS, A. B.

Auburn, Maine

"Like the river, calmest when deepest."

Born June 8, 1899, Sparta, Greece; Jordan High School 1922; Politics Club; Phil-Hellenic; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

James is one of our local men, and one of the most quiet. Coming over here from Greece, he decided to go to college. He entered Jordan High School and made a remarkable record there, considering his brief acquaintance with the English language. We all admire James for his ambition and courage. He is a real student and contributes much to classroom discussion. May he succeed as well in his vocation as he has in college.

RICHARD NICHOLAS ANKETELL, A. B. "Dick"

Gardiner, Maine

"When Irish eyes are smiling."

Born August 14, 1904, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School 1922; Football Squad 2, 3, 4; Track Squad 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Vice Pres. Parker Hall Association 3.

"Dick" is always good-natured. We haven't seen him when he wasn't smiling for a long time. But then, we seldom see "Dick" now-a-days. Of course there is a reason. The quotation above expresses it. We all wish him luck.

RUTH ALBERTA ATHERTON, A. B. "Rufus"

Lebanon, N. H.

"But my best praise is, that I am your friend."

Born April 2, 1904; Lebanon High, 1922; Seniority 4; Phil-Hellenic 1; New Hampshire Club 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 1, 3; 2nd 2, 4; Soccer 1, 3; 2nd 2; Volley Ball 1, 3; 2nd 2; Basket ball 2nd 2, 3; Class numerals; "B".

Always kind and sympathetic, ready to lend a helping hand to one in need—that is Ruth. How we envy her for her ability to get things done, and done well. But how could we expect anything different from one who is an ardent admirer of "Pa" Gould and "Doc" Tubbs! She's just the kind of a girl to have around—frank, conscientious, and sincere; a loyal friend, and yet she's human like the rest of us.

LAURENCE PIERCE BAGLEY, A. B. "Queenie"

Troy, Maine

Born October 21, 1903, Troy, Maine; Maine Central Institute 1921; Freshman Debating Team; Cosmos Club 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Sec.-Treas. 4; Varsity Club 3, 4; Winter Sports Team 3, 4; Captain 4; Outing Club Director 3.

"Judas Priest, what a break for father."

So we record "Queenie's" favorite saying for the book of famous quotations. We would never believe it to look at him but he is the best ski X-country runner in the State. There are several other things which make us believe he is no mean walker. Our best wishes are with you, "Queenie", in your work of the future.

KIRBY SIMONS BAKER, B. S. "Kirb"

Springfield, Mass.

"Young in limbs, in judgment old."

Born December 17, 1901, Ottawa, Illinois; High School of Commerce, Springfield, Mass. 1920.

Freshman Pres. class of 1925; Winner Soph. prize speaking 1922; Assistant Public Speaking 3, 4; Winner Junior Exhibition; Managing Editor "Student" 3, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Politics Club; Debating Council 3, 4; Pres. Class 4; Pres. Bates Publishing Association 3; First Pres. N. E. I. N. A.

The foregoing offices should have been enough for anyone but "Kirb". Is it any wonder that "Bake" chose someone to help him for life. Though he has become a benedict, "Kirb" has proved very conclusively that he is not only one of the most efficient men in our class but also has found time to enter into fields that pertain to the best things in life.

ORIS BARDEN, A. B

Lebanon, N. H.

"Full of deepest, truest thought,
Doing the very thing she ought,
Stooping to all good deeds."

Born December 12, 1903; Lebanon High School, 1922; Seniority 4; Phil-Hellenic 4; Sec. New Hampshire Club; Latin Club 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 1; 2nd 2, 4; Soccer 1, 3; 2nd 2; Volley Ball 2nd 2, 3; Capt. Winter Sports 3; Class numerals; "B".

Those who know Oris intimately find that in her they have one of the truest and most trustworthy of friends. It makes no difference what the situation, Oris always gives her honest, frank opinion and advice. There is not a girl who will more quickly or gladly lend a helping hand. And say, if you are interested in Latin, Athletics, or Winter Sports, just hunt up Oris. She's just the person you'll want for a good time.

RALPH LEWIS BERUBE, A. B. "Shorty", "Doc"

Lewiston, Maine

Born September 24, 1902; Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Football Squad 2, 3.

Coming to us from Canisius, "Shorty" soon made himself widely acquainted. When it comes to ready wit he's right there, as his friends will testify. And you ought to hear him recite poetry. His scintillating football playing is proof that size doesn't mean a thing. Any of his opponents will tell you that "Doc" is never down unless completely buried under a pile and even then he sometimes wiggles out. If pluck means success, he'll have it.

CHARLES ROLAND BOOTHBY, A. B. "Bo"

North Parsonfield, Maine

"A light heart and a joy of living are indeed a blessing."

Born February 19, 1905, East Parsonfield, Maine; Parsonfield Seminary; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Board 1, 2; Press Club 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

During the four years that "Charlie" has been with us we have come to regard him as our friend. "Charlie" is one of the few that can still be classed among those belonging to that very exclusive order of bachelors. This seems to be typical of "Charlie's" spirit to let well enough alone. "Charlie" also has a sunny disposition and never grumbles, not even before final "exams". With his cheery temperament and willing ways we know that he will make a fine record for himself.

LAURA BROOKS, A. B.

South Paris, Maine

"She has two eyes so soft and brown,
Take care;
She gives a side glance and looks down,
Beware; Beware!
Trust her not; She is fooling thee."

Born July 21, 1904; Paris High School, 1922; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Entre Nous; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Girls' Orchestra 1; Orphic 2, 4; Girls' Glee Club 4; Chapel Organist 4.

We simply could not get along without our chapel organist. And we'll certainly hand it to her when it comes to efficiency in scholastic pursuits. But there is one subject, above all others in which she is especially efficient and at the completion of this intensive period of study she should receive special honors! Surely you have guessed it—co-education to be sure! How does she do it? Ask Laura.

THEODORE MANNING BROWN, B. S. "Ted"

Norway, Maine

"Sweet harmony within my soul doth dwell."

Born April 17, 1904, North Waterford, Maine; Norway High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A.; Outing Club; Class Basketball 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4; Assistant Manager Baseball 2, 3; Assistant in Chemistry.

Although not exactly musical, "Ted" has spent some time in the study of Harmony. We like to hear him sing anyway. We are told that the professor knows a little more than he does but "Ted" is certainly a credit to the chemistry department. Through some strange error, here remedied, co-education 3, 4 is not listed among his activities.

EVELYN INI BUTLER, A. B.

Dover-Foxcroft, Maine

"Satire's my weapon; but I'm too discreet
To run amuck, and tilt at all I meet."

Born November 25, 1904, Dover-Foxcroft, Maine; Foxcroft Academy 1922; Hiking 1; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Varsity Debate 3, 4; Delta Sigma Rho; Ass't in Argumentation 3, 4; Junior Exhibition; Seniority 4; Ramsdell Scientific 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Politics Club, Pres. 4; Mirror Board; Sophomore Prize Debating, winner; Deutscher Verein 4.

Evelyn's forte seems to be public speaking and a nice thing about it is that when she speaks she usually says something.

We trust, Evelyn, that your superior logic and the very evident truth of the case will succeed in convincing anyone who doubts it, of the worth of the American woman.

WILMA EVELYN CARLL, A. B. "Bill"

Waterboro, Maine

"'Tis the mind that enriches the body."

Born February 19, 1905, Waterboro, Maine; Alfred High School, 1922; Hockey 2nd 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 2nd 1, 2, 3; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Tennis 2nd; Winter Sports 3; Hiking 2, 3; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Class Cheer Leader 1, 3, 4; Alethea 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., Membership Com., Social Service Com.; Christmas Bazaar, Freshman Chairman, Junior Chairman, General Chairman 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Athletic Board; Student Government Board; Macfarlane Club 4; Ramsdell Scientific 4; Seniority 4; Latin Assistant 4; Sodalitas Latina 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

A busy person is "Bill", always on the go and getting things done. As a cheer-leader she's a wonder—remember the song contest on Mt. David. But there's a reason for all her success and you should all know about it. She has an inspiration for all she does, including her critique. Ask her about it sometime. It's tacked securely behind her pillow —her Inspiration I mean!

RAYMOND BRIGGS CHAPMAN, B. S. "Ray"

Fairfield, Maine

"Be wise today; 'tis wisdom to defer."

Born December 9, 1903, Eliot, Maine; Gould Academy, 1922; Spofford Club 2, 3, 4; President 4; Rifle Club 1; Politics Club 2, 3; English 4A Players 4; Press Club 4; Bobcat Board 4; Mirror Board 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club; Y. M. C. A.

In "Ray" we have a budding genius in the field of literature. He has written plays that have gone over big and perhaps we shall hear a good deal more of him 'ere long in this respect. It has been said that "Ray" is quite a ladies' man but we must admit that he has been rather "cozy". Altho a quiet, unassuming fellow, "Ray" has been very well liked by us all, and his talent that should serve him in good stead in the future.

GEORGE HILTON CHASE, A. B. "Cap"

Cambridge, Mass.

"He was different, oh! so different."

Born April 26, 1904, Cambridge, Mass.; Sanford School, 1922; Football Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Spofford Club; Varsity Hockey 4.

"Cap" is one of our outstanding figures. He is brilliant in classroom, ever ready to argue and to support his contentions with sound logic. At Chase Hall his dancing excites much admiration. We admire "Cap" for his spirit, his pluck and his resourcefulness. He is individual, strikingly so! We know he will make a great lawyer.

EDNA MILDRED CHILDS, A. B. "Buggie"

Lewiston, Maine

"Care to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
And every grin, so merry, draws one out."

Born November 28, 1903, Pittsfield, Maine; Maine Central Institute, 1922; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Entre Nous; Soccer 2nd 2, 3.; Hiking 2, 4; Hockey 2nd 4; Lambda Alpha; Numerals.

"'Buggie' and her Dodge"—for he who knows "Buggie" knows also her Dodge. Her hospitality is not, however, confined to her Dodge. Goff Hill and Wood Street are places to be remembered by many on campus because of "Buggie's" everlasting good will and gracious welcome. Her good sportsmanship has been shown equally well in hockey games, classes, and after having taken a tumble down stairs. Be careful on the stairs, "Buggie", we missed you very much.

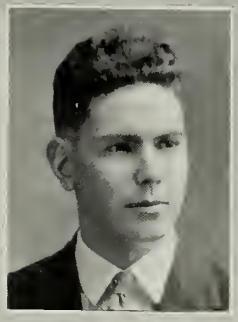
CLARENCE ELLIOT CHURCHILL, B. S. "Winston"

Brandon, Vt.

"Dignified in manner, sober in judgement."

Born January 12, 1900, Brandon, Vt.; Brandon High School, 1918; Pres. College Choir; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 3, 4; Outing Club.

Those who haven't roomed near Clarence for the past three years have missed a rare treat in not having listened to his melodious voice. Since his Junior year "Church" has tramped many a weary mile to expound both testaments to innocent people. We wondered where Clarence was going nights but we found out that he was the guiding hand of the Auburn Evening School. Clarence's unassuming personality and his fondness for books and learning presages unqualified success in later life.



ROLAND ERNEST CURRIER, B. S. "Curley"

Chesterville, Maine

"Nothing is impossible to industry."

Born October 2, 1902, Chesterville, Maine; New Sharon High School, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A 1, 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3.

It isn't noise that makes a fellow's presence known for "Curley" is one of our quietest members. Work downtown has kept him out of many of our activities. He is a friend to everyone and always ready to help anyone who is in trouble. We wish you the best of success in your work as a teacher.

JOHN PRESTON DAVIS, A. B.

Washington, D. C.

Born January 19, 1905, Washington, D. C.; Paul Laurence Dunbar School, 1922; Freshman Prize Speaking; Freshman Debating Team; Bates Press Club; Debating Council 2, 3, 4, Secretary 1; President 4; Sophomore Debating Team; Prize for excellence in Soph. English; Spofford Club; Deutscher Verein; Phil-Hellenic; English 4A Players; Editor Bates Student 3; Editor of Bobcat; Member of Executive Board, Y. M. C. A.; Honor Student.

John has distinguished himself since coming to college as a varsity debater. During his four years at college, he has been one of the mainstays in upholding the fame of Bates Debating Teams. John has devoted much time to literary work and has held several responsible positions on various college publications. Whatever field of work John decides to enter upon, be it in the field of forensic or literature, we predict success for him.

DOROTHY GERALDINE DUMAIS, A. B. "Dot"

Lewiston, Maine

"Whose spirits are not troubled by long loves."

Born June 12, 1901, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High, 1922; Entre Nous; Cercle Francais; Lambda Alpha; Outing Club; Public Speaking Prize Division 1; Gym Meet 3; Hockey 1; Alethea.

Who comes tripping into morning classes just a wee bit late with an undaunted smile? Who is always glad to see you and ready for a good time? That's "Dot", surely. You can't be blue if "Dot" is around,—just try it and see. We wish you all success, and may the added dignity of a schoolteacher not change your merry nature.

WILBUR JOHN DUMPHY, B. S. "Pat"

North Anson, Maine

"All things he loved, but dancing best of all."

Born October 30, 1904, North Anson, Maine; Anson Academy, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 3.

Do you know the latest step? If it bothers you ask "Pat" and find out how it is done. There isn't a chance that he doesn't know it. Also he knows tomorrow's assignment in Government or Optics. Ability to combine these two types of knowledge is rare. "Pat" has it and its possession should carry him far.

IRENE HAZEL DWELLEY, A. B. "Renie"

Biddeford, Maine

"There is great ability in knowing how to conceal one's ability."

Born March 14, 1905, Biddeford, Maine; Biddeford High School, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A; Entre Nous; Portland Club; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Bible Study Committee 4; Junior Bazaar Committee; Chairman Senior Bazaar Committee; Gym Meet 3; Deutscher Verein 4; Sodalitas Latina 4.

Do you remember how we laughed Freshman year when "Renie" told us she came from Biddeford? We laugh no longer for "Renie" is as essential to '26 as her home town is to the Democrats.

It is the privilege of few of us to really know her for she is an unassuming Miss. But those who do, love and admire her for her sparkling wit, clear, straight thinking and ability to adapt herself to every occasion.

INEZ GERTRUDE FARRIS, A. B. "Gertie"

Oxford, Maine

"The great end of life is not Knowledge but Action."

Born January 20, 1904, Oxford, Maine; Oxford High School, 1921; P. G., Gould Academy, 1922; Y. W. C. A. Finance Committee 3, 4; Alethea 2, 3, President 3; Ramsdell 3, 4; Seniority 4; Student Council 3, 4; Golf Club 3, 4; Student Government Judiciary Board 3, 4; Vice-President 3, President 4; Hockey 1, 2, 4, 2nd 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 2nd 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 2, 3, 4; Gymnasium Meet 2; Soccer 2nd 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B".

How "Gertie" makes speeches so easily we can't imagine. But she has had much practice and those who "sit on the board" tell us that she has discriminating judgment and absolute justice. Some of us know another side. Just mention a moonlight night, the murmuring pines, the lapping of the waters, a dashing knight-errant—and "Gertie" is off. To "Gertie", "Romance is the sauce of life."

JOSEPH PAUL FOLSOM, B. S. "Joe"

Hingham, Mass.

"Too low they build who build beneath the stars."

Born 1902, Bridgewater, Maine; Hingham High School, 1921; Football 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain 4; Track 1, 2, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4; Secretary 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Military Science; President of Athletic Council; Commons Committee 1, 2, 3, 4; Advisory Board of Y. M. C. A; Winter Sports Team 1, 2; Class President 1.

From the beginning of his college career "Joe" has shown himself to be a natural leader of men. This was shown us by his excellent leadership of the 1925 Football Team and his efforts in other directions. Despite all his work "Joe" has found time to be one of the boys and is well liked by all. We understand that "Joe" is to enter the woolen business—perhaps in Presque Isle!

JOHN ELMER FRAZEE, A. B. "Jef"

West Roxbury, Mass.

"An eloquent man, speaking the truth."

Born October 9, 1898, Boston, Mass.; Colby Academy, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 4; Garnet Quartet 4; Macfarlane Club 4; Choir 1, 4; Cosmos Club 2, 3, 4; Treasurer 3; President 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Ivy Day Oration; Student Board 1, 2; Mirror Board 4.

"Jef" always has a kindly word and a friendly smile for everyone. He is the optimist of the Class. When we needed an orator for Ivy Day "Jef" filled the bill. As a soloist, both in chapel and with the Garnet Quartet, "Jef" enjoys no mean rep. Why Bates was not founded in Gardiner is the one question which "Jef" cannot answer. Bates will miss you "Jef".

ARLINE NEVERS FROST, A. B.

Brunswick, Maine

"And in short measures life may perfect be."

Born October 27, 1904, Brunswick, Maine: Brunswick High School, 1922; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Entre Nous; Hiking 1, 2.

This short little lady is a good example of quality versus quantity for she illustrates again the truth of the statement that good things come in small parcels. Arline slips in and out among us and even tho she is small, we cannot fail to see her. Why?—because of her smile, for Arline and her smile, you know, are inseparable.

MYRON EDWIN GALLOP, B. S. "Bill"

Mexico, Maine

"I was never less alone than when by myself."

Born February 6, 1904, Mexico, Maine; Mexico High School, 1921; Jordan Scientific 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports 4.

For three years and a half "Bill' was content to gain his laurels on the track and in the realm of science. There was one field that "Bill" hadn't given much attention to but in the last few months "Bill" has threatened to usurp "Gil's" place as the class co-educator. "Bill's continual smile and his unquenchable desire to see the brighter side of life makes us feel sure that great things are in store for him.

JOHN FLINT GILMAN, B. S. "Jack"

Colebrook, New Hampshire

"An idea is a thing that must be shared."

Born September 23, 1904, Canaan, Vermont; New Trier High School, Kenilworth, Illinois, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennis 1, 2; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports 1, 2, 3; Track Manager 3; Varsity Club 4.

Jack leads our class in three respects, optimism, ideas and co-education. No one even threatens his lead in any of these. He can dope out a lead in any state track meet and think up a brand new idea for an East Parker night all in the same second. Another thing about Jack is that he is equally nonchalant in the parlor of Rand Hall or on the ski jump.

EMERY STEVENS GOODY, A. B. "Goody"

Lisbon, Maine

"A man does not need to make a noise."

Born October 12, 1903, Lisbon, Maine; Lisbon High School 1921; Track 1; Assistant Manager Hockey 2, 3; Y. M. C. A. 1 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

There is no advertising about "Goody" but we know that the quality is there. We note the fact that he has never signed up for any courses in co-education and wonder if the nearness of Lisbon accounts for the fact. Whatever the reason we know it must be good for Emery impresses us as one who knows what he wants and gets it. All of us expect this happy faculty to continue in evidence after graduation.

ERCELL MARK GORDON, B. S. "Brother"

North Anson, Maine

"They are reputed wise who say little."

Born August 28, 1903, Embden, Maine; Anson Academy 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Track 1, 2; Class and Dormitory Basketball 1, 2, 4.

"Brother" is one of our most retiring and unassuming members. He quietly goes about his business bothering no-one. "Brother" never signed up for the co-educational course, a look at his desk tells us why. We don't blame you "Brother". We're expecting you to cut loose and make some noise out in the business world. Go to it!

FAY ELEANOR GORDON, A. B.

Mt. Vernon, Maine

"Her modest looks the cottage might adorn,
Sweet as the primrose peeps beneath the thorn."

Born February 5, 1904; Livermore Falls High School, 1922; Le Cercle Francais; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Entre Nous.

We cannot help admiring one who has an even temperament and never allows anything to ruffle her disposition. Fay is loved and respected by all who know her for her quiet, conscientious, unassuming manner. And yet, she is always ready to take part in some frivolous project with the rest of us; and when things aren't going so well with us sometimes, it seems as if a sunbeam had entered our midst when Fay comes to us with her keen sense of humor and ability to make the best of things. We'll miss you, Fay.

WAITIE DELMA GORDON, A. B.

Mt. Vernon, Maine

"A still, small voice."

Born April 9, 1905, Mt. Vernon, Maine; Livermore Falls High School, 1922; Phil-Hellenic; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A., Entre Nous.

Shyly she goes among us, quiet is she in classes, amiable always, grouchy never. Yet, with all her shy ways she gets there. Watch her in Math as she calmly walks to the board and swiftly completes the most difficult calculations while the rest of us patiently hold our arms in the air as distress signals for Professor Ramsdell. May you succeed in life, Waitie, as you have succeeded in Math.

PAUL JUDSON GRAY, A. B.

Lewiston, Maine

"Impeccable in manner, he stood out from the crowd."

Born March 25, 1906, Boston, Mass.; Jordan High School, 1922; Tennis 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Spofford Club 3; President 4; Le Cercle Francais 2; Bates Student Board 3; Intercollegiate Editor 4; Student Press Club 4; Mirror Board 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Here is a student and a gentleman. Never in a hurry, never excited even by the longest glances from co-eds' eyes. How so cool a person changed in his senior year proves that a smouldering volcano is never extinct. May he succeed in everything as he has in co-education. We wish him unlimited success at Harvard and hope that his name will be followed by many degrees.

ELSIE LUCILE GREENE, A. B.

Turner, Maine

"How sweet and fair she seems to be."

Born March 31, 1905; Leavitt Institute, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Entre Nous 1; French Plays 1; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Delta Sigma Rho; Varsity Debating Teams 2, 3, 4; Women's Corresponding Sec. in Debating Council 4; Ass't in Argumentation 3, 4; Junior Declamations 3; Seniority 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Just as a fairy steals her way into the hearts of mortals, Elsie has stealthily flitted into the cold heart of the ferryman, Char(r)on. So potent have been her charms that he has been bewitched into ferrying her over the stormy rivers of earthly life as well as the more hazardous Styx. But don't forget to send him back for the rest of us!

AURELIA GRIFFIN, A. B.

Mechanic Falls, Maine

"I live for those who love me and the good that I can do."

Born February 6, 1904, Haverhill, Mass.; Mechanic Falls High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Christmas Bazaar Committee 2, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 3, 4; Soccer 1, 2, 3, Capt. 3; Volley Ball 2nd 2, 3; Numerals; Seniority 4.

Aurelia's energies are marvelous and yet, through all her studies, athletics and social activities she manages to keep a pleasant disposition. As a fullback in hockey Aurelia is a necessity, as a friend she is indispensable. May the rough knocks of life leave your sunny disposition and genuine friendliness unmarred.

DOROTHY EVELYN GRIGGS, A. B. "Dot"

Lebanon, New Hampshire

"And mistress of herself, tho' China fall."

Born June 8, 1905; Lebanon High School, 1922; Alethea 3; Seniority 4; Phil-Hellenic 4; Mgr. of Winter Sports 4; Chairman of Publicity Comm. Y. W. C. A. 4; Vice-Pres. of New Hampshire Club 3; Pres. 4; World Fellowship Comm. Y. W. C. A. 2, 3; Hockey 2nd 1; Hockey 1st 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 1, 2; Soccer 1st 3; Volley Ball 2nd 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 2; Winter Sports 3; Class Numerals.

"Dot" has meant a lot to the class of '26. One glance at her list of activities is sufficient to convince us that here is one who has certainly not wasted her time in college. As an athlete or an executive, "Dot" is right there. Incidentally, here we have a girl with a mind of her own and the courage of her convictions. We need say no more for "Dot"; she speaks for herself.

MARION ESTHER HALL, A. B.

Kensington, Conn.

"'Twas her thinking of others, made you think of her."

Born July 23, 1905, Kensington, Conn.; New Britain High School, 1922; Alethea 2, 3; Seniority 4; Politics Club 4; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 2, 3, 4; Undergraduate Rep. 2; Chairman Social Com. 4; Athletic Board; Sophomore Rep. 2; Soccer Manager 4; Hockey 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3, Capt. 1; Basketball 2nd 1, 3; Tennis 3.

We have found just the best mixture of ability, fun and true friendship in Marion. From a faculty tea or freshman reception to the hockey field, she is equally at home and always welcome. We cherish a place for you in our hearts, Marion, and wish you all success.

MURIEL ESTELLE HAMILTON, A. B. "Ham"

Portland, Maine

"Her voice was ever soft, gentle and low,
An excellent thing in woman."

Born October 14, 1904, Chebeague, Maine; South Portland High, 1921; Y. W. C. A. 1, 4; Entre Nous; Portland Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club; Sodalitas Latina 4.

Gentleness is expressive of our tall black-haired Muriel; expressive of her manner, her voice and her character. Quiet dignity and gentle good humor that would almost remind one of the calm beauty of a tranquil country brook, have charmed many. We wish there had been another room on third floor, Muriel, we'd like to have seen more of you.

MARGARET EMELINE HANSCOM, A. B.

Bethel, Maine

"Strong and wholesome, merry and gay,
A girl you might love any day."

Born April 26, 1904, Bethel, Maine; Gould Academy, 1922; Y. W. C. A. Publicity Committee 2, 3, 4; Athletic Board 2, 3, 4; Secretary 2; Vice President 3; President 4; Ramsdell Scientific Society 3, 4; Class Secretary 1; Sophomore Prize Speaking 2; Student Council 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Committee 3; Golf Club 3, 4; Mirror Board 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 2, 3, 2nd 1; Gymnasium Meet 1, 2, 3; Track 1; Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain 1; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Numerals, "B".

Take one healthy, well built body and a keen mind; add to it a willing heart and a noble spirit. When well mixed sprinkle freely with sweet smiles, happy laughs, two sparkling eyes and a generous supply of fun,—that's Margaret. And just look at her record!

JOSEPH LYNN HERRICK, A. B. "Joe"

Harmony, Maine

"It is the little things that count."

Born January 2, 1905, Harmony, Maine; Harmony High School; Prize Speaking 1, 2; Phil-Hellenic; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant Manager of Hockey 2; Greek Play "Alcestis" 2.

"Joe" became famous his Freshman year as an expert train jumper, hopping no less than thirty-five freight trains. In recognition of this feat he was awarded the degree of E. F. J. (Expert Freight Jumper). He has also made himself known as a speaker of rare merit, having been on both the Freshman and Sophomore prize speaking divisions. "Joe", we are always with you and we know that you will succeed.

DORIS PRISCILLA HILL, A. B. "Dot"

East Brownfield, Maine

"And cheeks as fresh as roses in June."

Born April 9, 1906, East Brownfield, Maine; Brownfield High School, 1922; Y. W. C. A., Social Service Committee 3, 4; Athletic Board 3, 4; Hiking Captain 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Bazaar Committee 4; Gym Meet 3; "B" Numerals; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2, 3; Soccer 2, 3; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3, Basketball 3.

Far from the haunts of man and sophisticated civilization this rosy-cheeked lass was educated and at a tender age was sent to Bates to be the envy of all for her youth and complexion. She is a living contradiction of the old saying that beauty and brains do not go together, for she is the proud wearer of the coveted "B" and she certainly knows her A B C's.

GENEVE HARRIETT HINCKS, A. B. "Hat"

Yarmouth, Maine

"Ah, you flavor everything; you are the vanilla of society."

Born April 6, 1904, Auburn, Maine; Portland High School, 1922; Alethea 2, 3; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific 4; Y. W. Rel. Meetings Com. 3, Social Com. 4; Athletic Board 4; Class Vice-President 1; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2nd 2, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 1, 3; Winter Sports 3; Numerals.

"What's the commotion down the hall?" Why, "Hat" of course, just back from a thrilling house party or week-end at home. It takes "Hat" to tell a thing perfectly. "Hat" has been active in all campus affairs, and always does her part with efficiency, and a fine dignity that is all her own.

CHARLES BERNARD HINDS "Huddy"

Gardiner, Maine

"Now's the time for song and jest."

Born January 4, 1904, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School, 1921; 'Varsity Football 4; 'Varsity Track 3, 4; Student Council 4; Varsity Club 4; Outing Club Director 4; Student Board; Press Club; Bobcat Board; Ivy Day Speaker; Ivy Hop Committee.

You have done so many things well, "Hud", that we don't know where to start, but we can't help remembering your pluck despite your size. Your literary ability has cropped out on numerous occasions in various publications and of your athletic prowess we need add nothing. Incidentally, you have found time to be a good fellow.

DURWARD HOLMAN, B. S. "Dode"

Dixfield, Maine

"Faint heart ne'er won fair lady."

Born November 3, 1903, Dixfield, Maine; Dixfield High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society 4; President East Parker Hall Association 4; Baseball Squad 1, 2, 3, 4.

We have all hoped to see the famous wish of "Off Campus Night" fulfilled but "Dode" has disappointed us. He is our most confirmed bachelor and promises to remain so. "Dode" is our foremost authority on athletic subjects. He can speak with knowledge about any sport. When he graduates some school gains a splendid coach but Bates loses a student and a gentleman who will be missed.

JAMES ALBERT HOWELL, A. B. "Dean"

Chelsea, Mass.

"Words properly used are much to be desired."

Born June 16, 1902, Chelsea, Mass.; Chelsea High School; Northeastern; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Debating Squad 1; Varsity Debater; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cosmos Club 2, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Argumentation 3; Sophomore Prize Debates; Freshman Prize Speaking; Honor Student.

As a Varsity debater "Jim" has worked hard and brought much fame to his Alma Mater. We have always liked "Jim" and we have come to know him as a fellow who can always be depended upon. How far is Sirius from the earth or Jupiter from the sun? "Jim" would be only too glad to tell you. It is rumored that "Jim" plans to enter religious work. We hope that this is true because it needs more men like him.

LINDLEY WEBB HUBBARD, B. S. "Lin" "Hub"

South Paris, Maine

"Earth's noblest thing A woman perfected."

Born December 5, 1904, Portland, Maine; South Paris High School, 1922; Football Squad 1, 3; Varsity 4; Athletic Council 3; Varsity Club 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Atlas 4.

"Lin" has always reminded us of one who knew a great deal more than he was willing to tell. His quiet and unassuming manner has endeared him to all with whom he has contact. Those who don't know "Lin" might accuse him of being lazy but the people who think this of "Hub" could never have seen him rip Bowdoin's line to pieces last fall. What memories do we connect with you, "Hub" old boy.

JOHN JOSEPH HUSSEY, Jr., A. B. "Jack"

Manchester, N. H.

"Hale fellow, well met."

Born January 10, 1904, Manchester, N. H.; Manchester High School, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Initiation Committee 2; Class Baseball 2; Atlas 4; Mirror Board 4.

Breezy "Jack"—how can we ever forget that smile? "Jack" will be greatly missed, not only by his classmates but by undergraduates as well. "Jack" has been a great booster for all athletic teams and for Bates. He has given Freshman Initiation much thought but has not reached any definite conclusion. Anyway, his opinions have been very interesting to all. We are sure that "Jack" will make a success of his future vocation—teaching.

JOHN COFFEY HYLAN, B. S. "Johnny"

Lewiston, Maine

"Little said presages wisdom."

Born October 18, 1905, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Politics Club; Vice-President, Men's Off-Campus Association.

Some people think that "Johnny" hasn't anything to do, but these people aren't acquainted with the hotel game. "Johnny" never knew there were so many keys in the world until he started to clerk at the Atwood. In spite of his many outside commercial interests John has found time to collect an exceptionally high average during his stay with us. Business man, politician and student, we have confidence in "Johnny's" ability to "make good" after the granting of the sheepskins.

GEORGE FRANCIS JACKSON, B. S. "Jack"

Lewiston, Maine

"If a man does much, he can do more."

Born November 27, 1902, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1921; Hockey 1; Football 1; Manager Freshman Football 3; Manager Varsity Football 4; Assistant Freshman Hockey Coach 3, 4; Varsity Club 4; Assistant Manager Million Dollar Play 3; Ticket Manager 4; Business Manager Bates Handbook 3; Business Manager Bobcat 3; Business Manager Student 3, 4; Publishing Board 4; Press Club 4; Sec.-Treas. East Parker Hall Association 4; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4, Pres. 4; Outing Club Director 4; Class Treasurer 4; Assistant in Geology 4.

"Jack's" activities speak for themselves. He is always busy yet always has time to tackle one more job. He is a business man, a student and an athlete, and a combination like that should carry one far.

RUTH ERMINA JOHNSON, A. B. "Rufus"

Alfred, Maine

"Who mixed reason with pleasure
And wisdom with mirth."

Born July 16, 1903, Alfred, Maine; Alfred High School, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific Society 4; Sodalitas Latina 4; Gym Meet 2, 3.

Ruth's amiability is quite ever present and we might say the same of that quality which is for most of us so elusive, common sense. You have shown us your stamina, Ruth, by working three years and we're more than glad to have you nearer to us this last year. If you conquer life as you have conquered studies and other tasks here at Bates, we shall have no fear for your success.

RICHARD HENRY KANNALLY, A. B. "Luke"

Walpole, Mass.

"His smile was like the rising sun."

Born September 17, 1905, Walpole, Mass.; Walpole High School, 1922; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Baseball Squad 1, 2, 3; Politics Club 3, 4; Pres. 4;

In "Luke" we have one whom we all like to call friend. His pleasing personality, quick and kindly wit have drawn many to him. Ever a source of information and a fount of good cheer "Luke" has formed a host of pals who will never forget his bubbling good nature and his broad grin. He is, above all, a man's man, which is the true criterion of a fellow's worth.

JOHN BERNARD KARKOS, B. S. "Jack"

Lisbon Falls, Maine

"None but himself can be his parallel."

Born December 29, 1900, Lisbon Falls, Maine; Kents Hill; Maine Central Institute 1922; Baseball 1, 2; Captain 4; Varsity Football 4; Varsity Club 1, 2, 3; Vice-President 4. Atlas 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman Sophomore Hop; Class Prophet, 3.

"Jack" came here with a good reputation as an athlete and has succeeded. His smoothness of manner is something to be desired as is his ability to run dances. Yes, "Jack" we must admit you are versatile. He refused to heed his room-mate's advice and was caught in the cogs of co-education. But why worry, "Jack" seems satisfied.

ORPHA VIRGINIA KILLERAN, A. B. "Kit"

South Cushing, Maine

"Still achieving, still pursuing."

Born February 26, 1902, South Cushing, Maine; Thomaston High School, 1921; Entre Nous; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; Seniority; Ramsdell Scientific 3, 4.

As the last bell rings you'll find Orpha just slipping into her appointed seat. This little habit must come from using every minute to advantage. Everything that Orpha has a part in is done neatly and well, from preparing lessons to keeping her sewing basket in order.

MILTON DONALD KITTREDGE, B. S. "Kit"

Tremont, Maine

"A friend may well be reckoned the masterpiece of nature."

Born April 9, 1905, Tremont, Maine; Southwest Harbor High School; Jordan Scientific 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Geology 4.

It is said that "words are women and deeds are men". "Kit" is certainly a man. He does things and says little. If "Kit" happens to sit in on a "bull session" he is silent but is perhaps smiling inwardly at the folly of the speakers.

"Kit" is interested in Geology but does his field work many afternoons with a fair partner. Perhaps its all Geology but—anyway, good luck "Kit". We could all well learn a lesson from you.

ALBERT PARKER KNIGHTLY, B. S "Al"

Norway, Maine

"A good disposition is a quality worth having."

Born April 19, 1904, Norway, Maine; Norway High School; Advertising Mgr. Bates Student 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Track Squad 1, 4; Tennis Manager 3; Jordan Scientific 3, 4; Assistant in Physics 4; Advertising Manager Bobcat 3; Varsity Club 4; President J. B. Hall Association 4; Outing Club 4.

Albert is a product of Mellie's home town. If you know "Mellie" then you know "Al". Both have become famous—"Mellie" as a fiddler; "Al" as a physicist. Towards the beginning of his Junior year "Al" was frequently found leaving the quiet atmosphere of John Bertram Hall for the more invigorating atmosphere of Cheney House. But all the same, "Al" is a mighty fine fellow and we know that he will uphold the fame of Norway.

CATHERINE FRANCES LAWTON, A. B. "Kay"

Lewiston, Maine

"What she wills to do or say
Seems wisest, virtuest, discreetest, best."

Born October 9, 1904, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Seniority 4; Mandolin Club 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 3, 4; Town Girls' Committee 3; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Operetta 2; College Choir 3, 4; Le Cercle Francais 2, 3, 4; French Plays 3, 4; English 4A Players 3, 4; Director 4; Student Government Town Representative 4; President Lambda Alpha 4; Student Board 3, 4; Debating Editor 4; Mirror Board 4; Bobcat 3; Golf Club 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 3, 4; Volley Ball 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4; Gym Meet 3; Soccer 2, 3, 4; Numerals 1; Freshman Prize Speaking, Winner, Million Dollar Play 3; Ivy Day Speaker 3; Freshman School 4; Women's Varsity Debating 4; Junior Exhibition; Assistant Public Speaking 4; and Spanish 4.

If something must be done at once with neatness and efficiency, send for "Kay". Just glance at "Kay's" record of activities and you'll understand why we think she's one of our most accomplished co-eds.

ANNE ESTHER LEAVITT, A. B. "Essie"

Gorham, Maine

"A witty woman is a treasure."

Born August 13, 1904, Newport, Maine; Westbrook Seminary, 1922; Y. W. C. A.; Portland Club; Entre Nous; Glee Club; Hiking; Assistant Public Speaking.

Want some excitement? Just go see Anne. She's sure to strum the latest for you, to play endless games of double solitaire, or just talk till you laugh from just laughing. But poor Anne has her Nemesis—she always manages to visit the infirmary at least once a year. She knows the ropes down there to perfection. Anne's a friend worth having. Her presence means a sure relief from the trials and woes of college rush.

EARLE METHUEN LEIGHTON, B. S. "Doc"

Brewer, Maine

"Her stature tall.—I hate a dumpy woman."

Born July 11, 1901, Lowell, Mass.; Biddeford High School, 1921; Track 2, 3, 4; Football 4; Atlas 4.

Allow us to present to you without doubt the tallest man in the class. We all look up to him. Besides being a "regular fellow" "Doc" has done his stuff in track and in football. It has been whispered that he spends a good many evenings down-town with some very enchanting person. We know not whom. And he often makes mysterious trips to Biddeford. When "Doc" grows up we are sure that the things he does will be in proportion to his size.

WILLIAM FRANCIS LEWIS, B. S. "Frit"

Norway, Maine

"He was a long man and a merry one."

Born July 11, 1904, Norway, Maine; Norway High School, 1922; Track Squad 1, 2, 3, 4; Relay Team 4; Varsity Club 4; Class Basketball 3, 4; Outing Club; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Assistant in Chemistry.

"Frit" has the gift of coming through at the right time. When a relay man was needed "Frit" supplied the man. He also helps run the chemistry department, and in his spare moments helps out the class basketball team. To beat "Frit" on the track or anywhere else you have to step. More speed to "The Lewis."

MARGARET LOMBARD, A. B. "Bardie"

West Springfield, Mass.

"How goodness heightens beauty."

Born September 15, 1903, Camden, Maine; Vermont Academy, 1922; Class Representative Student Government Board 2; Y. W. Cabinet, Chairman World Fellowship Committee 3; Treasurer Y. W. 4; Assistant in History 4; Director of Outing Club 4; Class Representative Athletic Board 3; Mirror Board 4; Class Secretary 2; Ivy Day Speaker 3; Politics Club; Alethea 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Seniority 3; Secretary 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2, 3, 4, 2nd 1; Volley Ball 2, 3, 4, Captain 4; Basketball 1, 2, 4, 2nd 3; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Tennis 2nd 1, 2; Numerals; "B" Medal.

There are so many sides to "Bardie" that it's hard to appreciate them all. Athletics, Y. W., Campus activities, Rand Hall, and "Jack" must always bid in advance for her time. It's true genius to apportion it so well, "Bardie"! It is not we girls alone who recognize her worth—ask "Pa" Gould or "Jack".

CHRISTINE LOUISE LOVELL, A. B. "Chris"

Lewiston, Maine

"I have no other but a woman's reason.
I think him so because I think him so."

Born July 7, 1905, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Lambda Alpha 4; Town Committee Y. W. Bazaar 4; English 4A Players 4.

There are lots of things we might say for "Chris"—both pro and con, but we're really afraid of what she might say in reply. Anyway, we're all glad that Christine made "4As" because it would be a crime to confine her unusual dramatic performances to the four walls of the Rest Room. Now she'll have a chance to display her talent to the people from every "Ward" in the two cities.

EDWARD RAYMOND McDONOUGH, A. B. "Pink"

Gardiner, Maine

"Clouds are only temporary things—the sky is everlasting."

Born September 11, 1904, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School, 1922; Bobcat Board; Press Club; Personal Editor of Mirror; Track 1; Baseball 1, 2, 4; Outing Club; Atlas.

To those who aren't very well acquainted with "Pink" he seems to exist for the sole purpose of getting off wise cracks. His close friends know him for the deep thinker that he really is. His unflinching loyalty to his pals and his love of everything connected with the optimistic side of life are his outstanding qualities. "Pink", to most of us, has really only completed two years at Bates. You may ask where he was the other two. Ask "Pink" where she lives.

BEATRICE CATHERINE McGRATH, A. B. "Bee"

Lewiston, Maine

"Whence is thy learning? Hath thy toil
O'er books consumed the midnight oil?"

Born May 12, 1904, Monson, Maine; Cony High School, 1921; Phil-Hellenic; Le Cercle Francais; Y. W. C. A.; Sodalitas Latina; Outing Club; Hiking; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Lambda Alpha; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Bee" is a quiet young lass who says little but accomplishes all sorts of things. As a language student it would be difficult to find her equal and then she calmly walks off with a good looking piece of jewelry commonly known as a Phi Beta She excels in everything from debating to Latin. We hope Kappa key. She believes that what is worth doing is worth doing well, and proceeds to take an extensive course in coeducation. May the fates continue favorable, "Bee"!

MARY ADALINE McLAUGHLIN, A. B. "Ad"

Lewiston, Maine

"There are some spirits nobly just,
Unwarped by self or pride."

Born September 29, 1903, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Deutcher Verein; Outing Club.

Every class can boast of its poets and literay genuises, but it isn't every class that can boast a professional saleslady such as we have in Adaline. Our hope is that she will be as successful transferring knowledge to youthful minds as she has been in transferring her wares to customers. And we would further say to Adaline's credit that she has been able to keep her head and her hair in this age of flappers—but we're in doubt about her heart.

ADA WALLACE MANDELSTAM, A. B.

Lewiston, Maine

"I am always in haste, but never in a hurry."

Born December 29, 1903; Jordan High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Debate 1; Sophomore Prize Debate 2; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2nd 3; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Tennis 3; Winter Sports 3; Numerals 3; Debating Council 4; Mgr. Bates-McGill Debate 4; Latin Club, Sec. Treas. 4; Varsity Debating 4; Assistant in Sociology and Economics 4; Honor Student.

Always rushing from this place to that, with some important engagement on hand,—that's Ada. Here we have a girl who is practical and business-like, with plenty of good, common sense. How efficiently that Bates-McGill debate was managed! Whether it is debating, athletics, or scholastic activity, Ada is right there and best of all she is such a good sport in everything. We foresee a brilliant future for you, Ada.

ETHEL MARIE MANNING, A. B.

Auburn, Maine

"Born for success, she seemed
With grace to win, with heart to hold
With shining gifts that took all eyes."

Born October 29, 1903; Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1922; Freshman Debating Team 1; Student Board 1, 2, 3, 4; Le Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3, 4; Publicity Secretary 4; Town Girls Y. W. Committee 3; Y. W. Membership Committee 4; Chairman Town Girls Committee; Politics Club 3, 4; Lambda Alpha 4; Seniority 4; Mirror Board 4; French Plays 1, 2; Gym Meet 2, 3; Sodalitas Latina 4; Varsity Debating 4; Class Ode 3; Latin Ass't 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Ethel is one of those girls whom people can't help liking, and in saying people, we include ourselves, the underclassmen and all the profs. It takes ability to achieve that distinction but Ethel seems to have accomplished the impossible. She excels in everything from debating to Latin. We hope you'll tell us some day how you do it.

IWAO MATSUNAGA, B. S. "Mat"

New York, N. Y.

"It is not the things we say, but the things we do that count."

Born January 7, 1905, Tokio, Japan; Round Brook High, N. J.; Outing Club Director 2, 3; Vice-President 4; Politics Club 2, 3; Jordan Scientific 4; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Winter Sports 2, 3, 4; Tennis 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports Mgr. 4; Assistant in Mathematics 3, 4; Assistant in Physics 3, 4; Vice-President M. I. W. S. A. 3; Secretary 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Mat" has made himself well known in the realm of winter sports. Many a time has he decended the steep slope of Mt. David to bring glory to his Alma Mater. "Mat" is also a real student, being an assistant in Mathematics as well as in Physics. "Mat" has also devoted much time to the Outing Club. A party at either Thorncrag or Sabattus would not be complete without him. Well, "Mat", we wish you good luck.

FRANK MERTON MAXIM, A. B. "Max"

Lewiston, Maine

"Let not your heart be troubled."

Born September, 27, 1901, Madison, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Frank is a quiet fellow. You would hardly know he is around except for—Well, here is the story: Frank, as a Freshman, was even more quiet than he is now. No one knew what a great transformation was being wrought in his mind. When in class he used to sit and admire, but dared not speak. Our last three years, however, have found him a lap ahead of all other co-educators. We know that, whatever you do, you will be well taken care of.

SYLVIA ELIZABETH MEEHAN, A. B. "Sliver"

Westbrook, Maine

"I was short when I was little, and I've been short ever since."

Born April 1, 1904; Westbrook, High School, 1922; Bates Student Board 1, 2, 3, 4; Portland Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Debate; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Debate; Vice-President Publishing Assoc. 3; Politics Club 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Press Club 4; Sec.-Treas. 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Seniority 4; Joke Editor Bobcat 4; Mirror Board 4; Ass't in Gov't 4; Ass't Mgr. Million Dollar Play 4; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Numerals.

"Sliv" may be short, but she's not small from her chin up! To whom do we look when "Pa" Gould asks a "sticker" and an ominous silence falls around? Who shines so brightly in every field of college life—as an executive, an athlete, a speaker, a scholar, and most important!—a prominent co-educator? Why, 'tis Sylvia, of course. We have to hand it to you, Sylvia. It makes no difference what the situation, you stand "Pat" with the goods.

LESTER WINFRED MILDEBERGER, B. S. "Les"

New Haven, Conn.

"Let thy words be few—thy wisdom great."

Born August 3, 1902, New Haven, Conn.; West Haven High School, 1922; Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Atlas 4.

"Les'" serenity was something that has always impressed us. Absolutely undisturbed, regardless of circumstances, he possesses a disposition that is enviable, to say the least. "Les" has always been an ardent supporter for Bates athletic teams, and has followed them to foreign fields, sometimes by aid of a box car or otherwise. On most matters he has remained silent but we shall not mistake his silence because we know "Les".

JOHN LEWIS MILLER, A. B. "Jack"

Wollaston, Mass.

"Great let me call him—for he conquered all."

Born February 25, 1904, Quincy, Mass.; Quincy High School, 1921; Cross Country 4; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Debate; Ivy Day Speaker; Million Dollar Play 2, 4; English 4A Players 2, 3, 4; President 4; Le Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer 2; President 4; Deutscher Verein 3, 4, President 4; Press Club 4, President 4; Glee Club 4; Le Cercle Francais Plays 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein Plays 3; Editor-in-Chief of Bates Student, Bates Handbook, Bates Mirror; Art Editor of Bobcat 3; Business Mgr. 4; Ass't in French 3, 4; Ass't in Public Speaking 3, 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Jack's" list of activities speaks for itself. "Jack" has been very popular with the men and, we must add, with the women, also. Whatever responsibilities have been conferred on him he has carried out in a thoroughly efficient manner. We extend our best to him and we are sure that "Jack" will succeed in whatever he does after leaving us.

GLADYS ELIZABETH MILLIKEN, A. B. "Babe"

Portland, Maine

"Happy am I; from care I'm free,
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

Born September 26, 1905, Island Falls, Maine; Cony High School, Augusta, 1922; Entre Nous, Secretary; Alethea 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Seniority 4; Portland Club, President 3; Outing Club Director 4; Y. W. C. A. Conventions Committee 2, 3, Chairman 3; Athletic Board 3, 4; Volley Ball Manager 3; Tennis 4; Golf Club 3, 4; Hockey 2, 3, 4, 2nd 1; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain 2; Basketball 2, 3, 2nd 1, 4; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2; Soccer 1, 2, 2nd 3; Tennis 1, 2, 3; Numerals; "B"; Medal; Cup.

It's "Babe" that's always enthused over every new idea —especially reducing exercises. Nothing takes the flavor out of life for her. She's always the same—a real friend and a true sport. And in spite of what she says sometimes, she really does believe that "'Tis not right that man should live alone."

HARVEY ERWIN MITCHELL, B. S. "Mitch"

Troy, Maine

"If it is not seemly, he does it not;
If it is not true, he speaks it not."

Born October 4, 1902, Troy, Maine; Maine Central Institute, 1921; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 3, 4; Secretary 4; Manager Baseball 4; Varsity Club 4.

Here we have a student, a good fellow and a gentleman. What a rare combination. "Mitch" was never known to be critical. Rather than to censure with idle words, he reserves his opinions until they are asked for and then his judgment is always respected.

"Mitch" knows bridge, and that he is a mathematician is well proved by the methodical, calculating manner in which he plays. We need not wish you success, "Mitch", it is yours for the asking.

ALVIN ALWARD MORRISON, A. B. "Doc"

"A wise man never loses anything, if he has himself."

Born May 13, 1904, Brownville, Maine; Deering High School, 1921; Track 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Assistant in Biology 3, 4; Relay Team 3; Class Treasurer 1; Mirror Board.

"Doc" has been a steady worker in many respects since he has been with us. Good student, member of our relay team, good fellow—we have all enjoyed "Doc's" being with us. We have found him ready at all times to carry out any tasks assigned to him. "Doc" has been one of the shining lights in the monastery and we hope this may be true in whatever field he may choose to enter.

ELVA ELLA OSIER, A. B.

New Harbor, Maine

"Whose words are images of thoughts refined."

Born May 17, 1902, Pemaquid, Maine; Bristol High School, 1920; Entre Nous; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Choir 1, 2; French Club 2, 4; Seniority 4; Hiking 1, 2; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

In the two years that Elva has been one of us, we've had time to find her always gracious, and reliable.—a valued friend. Still a mystery remains! Coming from the library, from downtown, or even on the way to breakfast, she is never in a hurry! And yet she finds time to absorb oceans of knowledge. With her ability and sweet personality we are sure she will succeed.

ELLEN PURINTON PARKER, A. B. "Prue"

Augusta, Maine

"Worth, courage, honor, these indeed
Your sustenance and birthright are."

Born May 26, 1905, Northfield, N. H.; Tilton School and Cony High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 4; Religions Meetings Committee 4; Cosmos Club 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 2, 3, 4; Seniority 4; Student Government Off-Campus Representative 3; Judiciary Board 3; Ivy Day Committee 3; Chairman Decorating Committee Y. W. Bazaar 4; Secretary-Treasurer Student Volunteers 4; Mirror Board 4; Hockey 2nd 4; Hiking 2; Gym Meet 2, 3; Honor Student.

Ellen is good looking; Ellen is clever; and we thought, when we first knew her, that Ellen was always serious and dignified. So she is, sometimes,—but not always. Ellen once said (so we thought)—that she was going to be an old maid, but when she re-"pete"-d the statement we discovered that there's a "not" in it.

RONALD ALFRED PERHAM, B. S. "Pee-ham"

West Paris, Maine

"With some men success is habitual."

Born October 7, 1902, West Paris, Maine; West Paris High School, 1920; Varsity Football 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2; Class Treasurer 2; Y. M. C. A. Secretary 2; Vice-President 3; President 4; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Athletic Council 3, 4; Student Council 4; Outing Club Director 4; Treasurer Varsity Club 4.

"Pee-ham" is the married man of our class. As such we are proud of him. There are other reasons of course. He is one of the best athletes in the class and one of its most popular members. Class and school honors have come his way but when we remember "Pee-ham" we are going to think of him not especially as an athlete but as a friend.

EDWARD BERNARD PRATLEY, B. S. "Grid Leak"

New York, N. Y.

"His sense of humor was gratifying."

Born May 15, 1903, New York City; Austin-Cate Academy, 1922; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4; English 4A Players 3, 4; Ass't Stage Manager for Million Dollar Play 3; Stage Manager 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Here we have a master worker in the science of Radio. Besides being a good student "Grid Leak" is a quiet fellow who has been busy at work continually on some mysterious arrangement, unknown to the ordinary human. We will never forget those fine concerts, but perhaps he will be best remembered by his attractive room during open house. "Grid Leak", we are sure, will eventually make a big name for himself, not only in the realm of Radio—but also in other lines.

STACY LOMBARD PECK, A. B. "Stace"

Lewiston, Maine

"Thy shyness is a candle to thy merit."

Born May 26, 1905, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 3, Captain 4; Track 2, 3, 4; Mirror Board.

"Stace" is unbelievably shy but has in his manner something most attractive. We all love to hear him narrate some incident for it just can't help being funny. His persistency in cross-country is admirable and worthy of commendation. "Stace" always seems to be in a hurry and his long legs are amusing to watch, but we have a feeling he'll get there.

MADELINE GERTRUDE POTTER, A. B. "Mally"

Portland, Maine

"And he is oft the wisest man
Who is not wise at all."

Born June 19, 1904, Burlington, Vermont; Deering High School, 1922; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; Entre Nous.

"Mally" is one of those peaceful spirits, apparently untroubled by the ordinary cares of this earth, who wends her way calmly along life's path.

We always felt that Madeline was a little superior to the rest of us until that memorable day when she burst into Latin class five minutes late. And now, Madeline what's this we hear about your having to go home week-ends very, very frequently.

HILLIS DELTA PETTENGILL, A. B.

Lewiston, Maine

"For all that faire is, is by nature good.
That is a signe to know the gentle blood."

Born November 21, 1903, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1922; Y. W. C. A. Town Girls' Committee 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Golf Club; Y. W. Bazaar Committee 4; Lambda Alpha; Chairman Social Committee 4.

Beauty, grace, laughing eyes, happy disposition, and—Well, what's the sense in trying to describe Hillis in ordinary words? If our talents lay in the realm of poetry, we would dedicate a poem to this fair young lady, but the only hindrance is our inability to write poetry. Yet, we must say in most ordinary prose that we marvel that in spite of her fondness for "Bobs" she still possesses her own long tresses. But we're really glad of it, Hillis.

DOROTHY CUMMINGS PRIEST, A. B. "Dot"

Maynard, Mass.

"While 'Dot' stands defender of the Garnet and the Black."

Born March 28, 1904, Lawrence, Mass; Maynard High School, 1922; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Bible Study Committee 3; Social Service Committee 4; Christmas Bazaar Committee 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Mass. Club; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Le Cercle Francais 4; Mirror Board 4.

Until this year we thought "Dot's" loyalty to the Garnet and Black was limited to Bates but—alas—a Lowell Textile banner appeared on her wall and we were disallusioned.

Her greatest interest at present is in her correspondence and Girl Reserves. That they both are successful is shown by the results she receives. Quiet, sincere and lovable, it is a privilege to call her "friend."

LLOYD VERNON PROCTER, B. S. "Proc"

South Weymouth, Mass.

"A man of strife and a man of contention."

Born May 3, 1903, Roxbury, Mass; Weymouth High School, 1921; Outing Club Director 3, 4; Student Council 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Class President 3; Chairman Ivy Day 3; Commons Committee 4; Varsity Hockey 4; Varsity Club 4; Mirror Board; President West Parker Hall Association 4;

"Proc" wasn't with us our Freshman year, but when he did join us he made good right at the start. Lloyd has a rare personality and leaves a very pleasing impression on all those with whom he comes in contact. A man is indeed different when he is liked by both men and women. We are glad to have met you, Lloyd, and may good fortune follow you always.

GWENDOLEN PURINGTON, A. B. "Gwen"

Auburn, Maine

"Age cannot wither her,
Nor custom stale her infinite variety."

Born July 18, 1904, Akron, Ohio; Edward Little High School, 1922; Le Cercle Francais 2, 3; Spofford Club 3, 4; Vice-President 4; English 4A Players 3, 4; Town Girls' Committee Y. W. C. A. 4; Ivy Day Speaker 3; Bates Publishing Association 3, 4; Secretary 3; Student Board 3, 4; Bobcat Board 4; Mirror Board 4; Student Press Club 3, 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Gwen"—gay, dancing, laughing, frivolous. Gwendolen—serious, thoughtful, studious, intelligent. How contradictory, and yet—how true. "Gwen" has been one of our busiest co-eds, but in spite of that fact, she has found time to give Bowdoin a share of her attention.

MARGUERITE PEARL REED, A. B. "Marge"

Harmony, Maine

"She and comparisons are odious."

Born June 20, 1907, Harmony, Maine; Harmony High School, 1922; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; A. A. Board 4; Mgr. Track 4; Hockey 3, 4; Volley Ball 3, 4; Basketball 3, 4, Captain 3; Tennis 3, half stripe; Soccer 2, 3; Numerals, "B"; Le Cercle Francais.

In Aladdin's Lamp we read of a beautiful little lamp which proved to be of great use to Aladdin. "Marge" makes us think of this. She is pleasant to look at (See Treatise on Co-education for proof of above statement). She is, however, as useful as she is ornamental, for she can do anything from shooting baskets to shining in French classes. Studies, athletics, co-education, she's right there. Here's to Harmony! and to her daughter, Pearl!

MARGARET ALICE RICHARDSON, A. B. "Margie"

Reading, Mass.

"A woman's greatest power lies in serenity."

Born November 5, 1903, Audover, Mass.; Reading High School, 1921; Y. W. C. A. Membership Committee 4; Student Government Board, House Senior 4; Hiking 1, 3; Choir 1, 3, 4; Seniority 4; Glee Club 1, 3; Phil-Hellenic 4; Assistant in English 4.

Have you noticed how "Margie" is always smiling, no matter whether she's answering the telephone for the twentieth time that day or just returning from a grilling hour with "Pa" Gould? She just can't help looking good natured—it's an original tendency! We all wish you even more happiness in the days ahead.

MARIAN JOYCE RIPLEY, A. B. "Rip"

Bucksport, Maine

"Laughter is, and ever was,
Among the delightful sounds of the earth."

Born January 15, 1904, Bucksport, Maine; East Maine Conference Seminary, 1921; Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea 2, 3; Vice-President 2; Hiking 1, 2; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Macfarlane 3, 4; Vice-President of Class 3; Student Government Judiciary Board; House Senior 4; Bazaar Committee 1; Ivy Hop Committee; Chairman Dance Committee 3; Mirror Board; French Plays 4; Le Cercle Francais 4.

"Rip" and her *rip*pling laughter—one is a sure sign of the other. When she laughs you can't help feeling happy, too. But her heavy correspondence takes up half her time. And House Senior means busy minutes, too. We don't see half enough of "Rip". In Musical Comedy she's a star. We would suggest New York for your talents!

EMILY SALOME ROBERTS, A. B. "Bobbie"

Gorham, Maine

"Care, to our coffin adds a nail, no doubt,
And every grin, so merry, draws one out."

Born September 18, 1904; Gorham High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Gym Meet 1; Hockey 1, 3; Soccer 2nd 1; Hockey 1, 2, 3; Capt. of Track 2; Capt. of Hockey 3; Seniority 4.

Mischievous, carefree, light-hearted "Bobbie"! One of the first to giggle and always ready to do something "exciting". "Bobbie" seldom worries. What matter if she is five minutes late or forgets to take that book back to the library? It always comes out all right. Here is a girl who can find time to go on a skiing party, read the latest books and all the current magazines, and yet, somehow, or other, she always gets everything done. Here's to you, "Bobbie"!

ARTHUR WOODBURY SAGER, A. B. "Art"

Gardiner, Maine

"A magnificant voice filled the auditorium."

Born July 4, 1904, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 4; Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Garnet Quartet.

"Art" is one of our leading vocalists. He has sung his way to fame and, we hope, fortune, as a member of the Garnet Quartet. We all like to hear "Art" sing or talk. His good humor equals his vitality and that is inexhaustable. "Art's" laugh is a joy to hear. May we hear it often!

FRANK SANELLA, A. B.

Worcester, Mass.

Born August 4, 1900, Rome, Italy; High School of Commerce, Worcester, Mass., 1920; Freshman Track; Varsity Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Penn Relays 1, 3; B. A. A. Relays 1, 2, 3; Varsity Club; Cross Country 2; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3; Freshman Prize Speaking; Freshman Track Coach.

Despite the handicap of not having a middle name, Frank has more than proven his worth on the cinder path and in the classroom. Who of us can ever forget his sterling performances on our unbeaten relay teams. A deep thinker and philosopher, Frank has plodded quietly along his way but none the less successfully. May the same speed that has stood you in your track achievements stay with you in the race of life!

LOIS BLANCHARD SAWYER, A. B. "Lo"

Westbrook, Maine

"Of all the folks I'm liking
Of all the folks who're true
I grow more certain every day
There are no folks like you."

Born July 4, 1904, Westbrook, Maine; Westbrook High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; Portland Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Pres. 4; Hockey 2nd 4; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 3; Soccer 3; Numerals.

"Lo" is the champion dancer and uke player of Rand Hall. When she and Ann get started there's entertainment enough for anybody. Did you ever know of anything to happen from a Chase Hall dance to a Volley Ball game that "Lo" wasn't in the midst of?

She is the best of sports, the best of friends and the best of classmates. '26 will long remember her as one of its most essential members.

LORENA CLARK SCOTT, A. B. "Lucretia"

Hadley, Mass.

"I am from Massachusetts, the land of the sacred cod
Where the Adams speak to the Cabots, and the Cabots speak only to God."

Born July 7, 1903, Hadley, Mass.; Hopkins Academy, 1920; Entre Nous 1; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Choir 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Fellowship Committee 3, 4; Bazaar Committee 2; Numerals; Mass. Club 1, 2; Sec. 3; Pres. 4; Seniority 4.

"Lucretia" comes from Massachusetts and she doesn't mind who knows it. The Bay State has two loyal daughters in Betty and Lorena. Few of us really know "Lucretia" but those who do consider themselves fortunate.

"Lucretia" won her laurels as an actress in her performance of "Hamlet" at Seniority initiation. Any time you want a recommendation, "Lucretia", to serve on a publicity board of your state, let us know.

ROY UPTON SINCLAIR, B. S. "Andy"

Westbrook, Maine

"And some have greatness thrust upon them."

Born June 3, 1902, Westbrook, Maine; Westbrook High School; Student Council 1, 2, 3, President 4; Class President 2; Varsity Club 3, President 4; Varsity Football 3, 4; Varsity Hockey 3, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Outing Club Director 1, 2, 3, 4; Commons Committee 3, 4; Vice-President Parker Hall Association 4; Military Science 1, 2; Athletic Council 4.

"Andy" is a little fellow whose record spells activity and leadership. Most of us will remember him as the little quarter-back who was responsible for a Bates victory over Bowdoin in football in the last minute of play. "Andy's" activity along with his amiable disposition have made for him many friends, both among students and faculty.

ELEANOR ALEXANDER SMITH, A. B. "Smithie"

Norway, Maine

"Fate tried to conceal her by naming her Smith."

Born September 16, 1904, Norway, Maine; Norway High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Bazaar Committee 2, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Gov't Board 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2nd 3, 4; Numerals.

With special emphasis on the "tried", because no one could conceal Eleanor for very long—she's too energetic and fun-loving. But alas all is changed. "Smithie" has decided to devote her time to reading the Bible with special attention to Paul's epistles and we see her but rarely. We shouldn't be surprised to hear that after graduation—well, never mind, you know anyway.

HARRY ALBERT SMITH, A. B. "Smithy"

Winchester, Mass.

"All wisdom's armory this man could wield."

Born December 2, 1895, Woburn, Mass.; Lynchburg Seminary 1921; Bangor Theological Seminary 1924; Y. M. C. A. 3, 4; Honor Student.

Smith came to us as a Junior. A little later we knew him as the man who could outbox the instructor in gym class. He is the ideal "fighting parson." He has a wicked left jab and an equally effective line of oratory on tap for every occasion. A hymn has unexpected possibilities as "Smithy" handles it. We predict that some church is going to have a remarkably efficient minister in the near future.

RUTH ARDELLE SOUTHWICK, A. B. "Rufus"

Lewiston, Maine

"Unrivalled as thy merit be thy fame."

Born August 19, 1903, Franconia, N. H.; Pembroke Academy, 1922; Le Cercle Francais; Deutscher Verein; Y. W. C. A., Outing Club; Hiking; Junior Exhibition; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Lambda Alpha; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

They say that if you don't worry you'll keep that "schoolgirl complexion" and a happy disposition. It's very obvious that Ruth has avoided worry, and at last we've discovered how she does it. Ruth has developed the faculty of getting her work done ahead of time, while some of us other poor mortals still continue to put off starting on ours until the night before it's due. Here's luck to you, Ruth.

CAROLYN MILDRED STACKPOLE, A. B. "Kay"

Bath, Maine

"As merry as the day is long."

Born November 5, 1903, Winthrop, Maine; Morse High School, 1922; Alethea 2, 3; Sodalitas Latina 4, President 4; Y. W. C. A. Finance Committee 2; Conventions Committee 3, 4; Outing Club; Winter Sports 3; Hockey 2nd 1, 2, 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 1, 2nd 2, 3; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Soccer 2nd 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, Captain 2.

"Kay" is always skipping about and bursting forth with impulsive ideas. She's just bubbling over with happiness and surplus energy. To many of us "Kay" stands for Maqua candy, and she always has a cheery word when we go to buy it. "Kay" also stands for generosity of the finest kind, and her smiles are perpetual sunshine. Keep them always "Kay".

HELENE MAY STEARNS, A. B.

Bath, Maine

"It is not good that man should be alone."

Born October 26, 1903, Bath, Maine; Morse High School 1922; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club.

There is one outstanding quality in Helene—fidelity. And to proceed in logical continuation, her fidelity applies to two lines of study—music, or more especially mandolins, and proverbs, or more especially maxims. Practice makes perfect, they say, and we trust, Helene, that you will reach the same degree of perfection in the first that you have in the second.

ELIZABETH STICKNEY, A. B. "Betty"

Worcester, Mass.

"A merry heart goes all the day."

Born August 25, 1902, Worcester, Mass.; High School of Commerce, Classical High, 1921. Hockey 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Track 3; Gym Meet 1, 2; Numerals; Massachusetts Club, Vice-President; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A. Social Com. 2; Membership Com. 3; World Fellowship 4; Seniority 4; Chase Hall Floor Dance Com.; Vice-President Class 4; Student Government Board 4.

"Good things come in small packages" was never truer than of "Betty". Full of ideas, fun, and enthusiasm, "Betty" keeps things moving.—whether it's a party, dance, play, or just an impromptu show in the Dorm. We all wish happiness for "Betty", a true friend, and a loyal member of our class.

LUCIA AVIS STODDARD, A. B.

Washburn, Maine

"A creature of a most perfect and divine temper."

Born November 12, 1902, Washburn, Maine; Washburn High School, 1921; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Entre Nous.

We have often wondered how Lucia manages to keep that same even disposition. Those who know her at all intimately can vouch that she is thoughtful, conscientious, and thoroughly dependable. And yet, there is not a more good-natured, big hearted girl of the campus. Her keen wit; her generous nature and clever remarks make her a favorite with all who come in contact with her. May we always keep you this way, Lucia!

STANLEY IRWIN STUBER, A. B. "Stub" "Stan"

Gardiner, Maine

"True wit is Nature to advantage dress'd,
What oft was thought, but ne'er so well express'd."

Born August 24, 1903, Gardiner, Maine; Gardiner High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 3; Cosmos Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Treasurer 3; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4, President 4; Ivy Day Chaplain; Mirror Board 4; Macfarlane Club 4; Assistant in Biblical Literature 4; Manager of Hockey 4; Varsity Club 4.

We don't know just what to say of "Stub". Shall we call him the flying parson or our mechanical genius? He is mechanical enough to make his Ford fly. We also note its ability to take the Hill(s). His managership of the hockey team is another well known accomplishment. After his graduate work we can expect much of "Stan". Keep on, "Stub", we're with you.

ELEANOR COOLBROTH STURGIS, A. B. "Ellie"

Portland, Maine

"She was clever, witty, brilliant, and sparkling, beyond most of her kind, but possessed of many devils of mischievousness."

Born April 16, 1904, Portland, Maine; Deering High School, 1922; Alethea 2, 3; Ramsdell 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; Deutscher Verein 4; Politics Club 3, 4, Sec. 4; Seniority 3, 4, Vice-Pres. 4; Religious Mtgs. Comm. Chairman of Y. W. C. A. 4; Student Government Secretary 3; English 4A Players 4; Prize Speaking Division 2; Assistant in Math. 3, 4; Assistant in Public Speaking 4; Hockey 2, 4, 2nd 1; Hiking 1; Tennis 1, 4; Volley Ball 2nd 3, 4; Gym Meet 1, 2; Soccer 2nd 1, 2; Numerals; Mirror Board; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Ellie"—what would we do without her! Efficiency plus—that's our Ellie—"Ask Ellie—only don't ask her where her notebook is." Impulsive, lovable, with a mischievous gleam in her brown eyes that we can't resist,—she is always welcome and ever ready with her store of knowledge to help with entertainments, the trials of examinations, or midnight spreads.

LORAINE EVELYN TAYLOR, A. B.

Auburn, Maine

"Honest freeness makes it her virtue
To speak what she thinks."

Born July 23, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1922; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Orphic Society 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennis Tournament 3; Le Cercle Francais 4; Lambda Alpha 4; Treasurer 4; Winner Junior Exhibition.

Surely, Evelyn, the person who wrote the above lines must have had you in mind. And we appreciate that it is a virtue, for what would we have done noon times in the Rest Room if you hadn't been there to relieve the monotony? And there is also another respect in which Evelyn is superior to the rest of us. Her romance began in high school and is still going strong.

CHARLES PARSONS THOMAS, A. B. "Tom"

Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Live today, for tomorrow may never come."

Born July 7, 1905, New York City; Erasmus Hall High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports 2, 4; Dormitory and Class Basketball 3, 4.

"Tom" has kept much in seclusion while here at Bates. Lately rumor has it that he has been stepping out. Better late than never "Tom". "Tom" is a card shark of the n'th degree. Play life's cards well, "Tom", and you are sure of succeeding.

ROSE EMMA THOMPSON, A. B.

Addison, Maine

"The secret of success is the constancy of purpose!"

Born May 4, 1904, Addison, Maine; Addison High School, 1921; Y. W. 1, 2; Bazaar Committee 3; Finance Committee 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Seniority 3, 4; President 4; Sodalitas Latina 4; Mirror Board 4; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3.

There are ever so many things that we don't know about Rose—she's clever enough to keep most of her talent for her closest friends. She has a weak spot in her heart for all kinds and sorts of urchins, especially those that she finds on her wanderings along the highways. On these young folks she showers her infinite generosity. Perhaps she's the Pied Piper of Rand. There's just enough of a mystic air about her to make her both interesting and charming.

LELAND LLOYD THURLOW, B. S. "Lee"

Pittsfield, Maine

"A smile properly used will work wonders."

Born May 31, 1903, Canaan, Maine; Maine Central Institute; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary J. B. Hall Association 4; Bates Student 1, 2, 3, 4; News Editor 3, 4; Bobcat Board 3; French Plays 2; Press Club 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Mirror Board 4.

"Lee" has made many friends during his four years at Bates. His cheery smile has been largely responsible for this. It is a rare occasion when "Lee' is not seen smiling. "Lee" has also been a fellow who has always been ready to help when called upon. He has given much of his time to various college publications. He has not neglected his studies, however, as indicated by his success in the classroom. Well, "Lee", a host of friends wish you good luck.

NEWELL FRANCIS TOWNSEND, A. B. "Townsie"

Waterford, Maine

"A good nature is a thing to be desired."

Born September 8, 1904, Albion, Nebraska; Brownville High School; Band 1, 2, 3, 4; Prize Speaking 2; Cosmos Club 4; Deputation Team.

It is said that some men are born good natured, others acquire it, while others have it thrust upon them. Surely, Newell must belong to the first class because ever since we have known him he has been one of those good natured sort of chaps. Newell never believed in saying any more than was necessary. Perhaps that accounts for the success he has achieved in the classroom, for Newell has shown himself to be a capable scholar. Newell will always have a host of friends to wish him good luck.

ALTON PARKER TRACY, B. S. "Pete"

Groveland, Mass.

"He was quiet—but he had an eye."

Born November 6, 1904, Amity, Maine; Groveland High School, 1922; Y. M. C. A.; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Outing Club; Assistant in Chemistry.

"Pete" is one of these chemists, but a good one. In spite of the fact that he never "has time" he manages to accomplish a great deal. It is not generally known that "The Tracy" delivered ice long before Red Grange made the job famous. However, it is true, "Pete" certainly is an iceman and you can put the accent anywhere you choose.

RUSSELL CHASE TUCK, A. B. "Russ"

Greene, Maine

"A man of knowledge increaseth strength."

Born July 17, 1903, Greene, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1922; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Cosmos Club 4; Junior Exhibition; Assistant in Biblical Literature 3, 4; Sonor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Russ" is a real student. He has an infinite capacity for knowledge and his keen mind holds this knowledge in a ready place. Nevertheless he is most modest and consequently very popular. Serious-minded though he is, Russell always has a ready smile and a pleasant word.

FANNIE MERRILL TUCKER, A. B. "Fan"

Norway, Maine

"One truth is clear, whatever is, is right."

Born December 5, 1902, Strong, Maine; Farmington High School, 1921; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Mandolin Club 1, 2; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Winter Sports 2nd 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea 2, 3; Seniority 4.

Who doesn't know Fannie? Fannie with her blonde tresses and her perpetual good nature is known to many a bold Parker Hall Knight, desperately trying to call forth his fair lady by the intricate Rand Hall bell system. Who is it that protects him from the mad onslaught of those damsels whom he has erroneously called forth? Why! it's Fannie, our Rand Hall Angel.

OLA GEORGE VEAZIE, A. B. "Veaz"

Littleton, N. H.

"I love tranquil solitude and such society as is quiet, wise, and good."

Born December 18, 1903, Littleton, N. H.; Littleton High School, 1921; Outing Club 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 3, 4; Accompanist Men's Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Orphic Society 3, 4.

"Veaz" came to us from Amherst and has been with us only three years. Yet he has made many friends and has become prominent in our class. He is in everything musical and, indeed, seems to have an eye as well as an ear for beauty, as is well attested by his harmonious attire. A good student, his opinions reflect his thoughtful nature.

HAROLD HARMON WALKER, A. B. "Kik"

Portland, Maine

"Wise to resolve, and patient to perform."

Born July 29, 1903, Portland, Maine; Deering High School, 1921; Intercollegiate Debating 2, 3, 4; Oxford Debate 4; International Debating Team to England 3; Cosmos Club 3; Freshman and Sophomore Prize Speaking; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4; Executive Committee 4; Debating Council 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 4; General Scholarship 1, 2, 3; Coe Scholarship 3; Assistant in Public Speaking 3, 4; Assistant in Biology 2, 4; Delta Sigma Rho; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

Pause a moment, friend, and bend your esoteric cogitations and inattentive oculars upon the achievements listed here. With a straight "A" success upon the debating platform, in the classroom, and in the laboratory, Harold is our scholastic leader. As in all things, when he took the Co-educational course he succeeded.

RONALD LEE WATERMAN, B. S. "Lee"

East Bridgewater, Mass.

"Wit and wisdom are born with a man."

Born May 20, 1906, East Bridgewater, Mass.; East Bridgewater High School, 1921; Macfarlane Club 2, 3, 4; Orphic Society 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 2; Mirror Board.

"Lee" is perhaps best known because of his musical ability. Morning, noon and night, the inmates at Parker Hall are charmed with the beautiful strains that issue from his trumpet. Even during his midnight lunches at the Apollo, his conversations with his friends turns to the subject of music. He is a remarkably good student, possessing one of the best mathematical minds in the class. We feel safe in saying that "Lee" will make his place secure in the world.

JANE LOUVISA WELCH, A. B. "Jane"

Auburn, Maine

"None knew her but to love her,
None named her but to praise."

Born March 1, 1904, Rumford, Maine; Stephens High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Committee 1, 2; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Christmas Bazaar 1, 2; Ivy Hop Committee 3; Class Secretary 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Numerals; Volley Ball 4; Lambda Alpha 4.

Have you ever seen "Jane" when she wasn't ready to smile? Have you ever seen "Jane" when she was saying something unkind about anyone? Have you ever seen "Jane" when she wasn't true to Roy? If you have, then it wasn't the "Jane" we mean.

DOROTHY VALERIE WELLMAN, A. B. "Dot"

Auburn, Maine

"The noblest mind the best contentment has."

Born October 20, 1904, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Town Girls' Y. W. Bazaar Committee 3; Gym Meet 1, 3; Lambda Alpha 4.

"Dot" is one of those rare persons who is blessed with a calm and pleasant manner and a happy disposition. "Dot" appears very quiet and dignified but you don't have to know her long to discover that she enjoys a good time just as well as the rest of us. When she came to Bates as a Freshman she was much interested in Portland, and apparently her interest in it has not yet waned. Yes—along with her other good qualities "Dot's" a loyal friend.

AURELIA EDNA WENTWORTH, A. B. "Dinny"

Scarboro, Maine

"For she was neither short nor tall,
But she surprised us most of all."

Born November 6, 1905, Scarboro, Maine; Scarboro High School, 1922; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Bazaar Committee 1, 2; Junior Dance Committee 3; Mirror Board; Portland Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Freshman year "Dinny's" idea of college seemed to be a place to study and collect "A's". But Sophomore year she surprised us all. Although she started on her career of social activity later than most, she has made us take notice. We are beginning to wonder now if she was trying to fool us or the profs, freshman year. Anyhow, you're a corking sport and pal, "Dinny", and we're glad to have you for a friend.

BYRON FREDERICK WILCOX, B. S. "Bill"

Putnam, Conn.

"He was a good man, and just."

Born December 28, 1898, Putnam, Conn.; Putnam High School, 1917; Mandolin Club; Military Science 2; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Assistant in Surveying 3, 4; Assistant in Public Speaking 4; Bobcat Board 4; Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

"Bill" is a man of courage, who, coming to college after several years had elapsed, showed a keenness of mind surpassed by none. He is most interested in mathematics and science and his splendid record in those subjects proves that he is a scholar. We know that he will succeed, for he has brains and ability, and he is a hard worker.

DOROTHY JANETTE WILLIAMS, A. B. "Dot"

Kittery, Maine

"I live for those who love me, for those who know me true,
For the heaven so blue above me, and the good that I can do."

Born November 9, 1903, Kittery, Maine; Traip Academy, 1922; Alethea; Seniority; Class Secretary 3; Golf Club 3, 4; Secretary 3, 4; Student Government Board, House Senior 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2nd 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 2nd 1, 3; Basketball 2nd 3; Soccer 2nd 1, 2, 3; Gym Meet 1, 3; Numerals; "B"; Sodalitas Latina.

We first introduce Dorothy Janette,—conscientious, with sweet dignity, and a certain seriousness, Dorothy as a successful house senior, and with all her accomplishments.

And then,—just "Dot", enthusiastic, interested in all athletics, always ready for a good time, brimful of fun and mischief.

"Dot" and Dorothy J.—a lovable mixture, we like you either way and all the time.

STANLEY SULLIVAN WILLIAMSON, A. B. "Bill"

New Portland, Maine

"To be strong is to be happy."

Born June 25, 1903, New Portland, Maine; Kingfield High School; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Varsity Football 4; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club; Outing Club 3, 4.

Many people are of the opinion that the night watchman gets us up for 7.40's, but they are wrong. The person who is responsible for us having breakfasts is good old "Bill" For four years "Bill has shown his ability on the athletic field and more than a couple of guards have felt sorry that "Stan" was opposing them. Quiet, retiring and unassuming, but nevertheless of tried and true caliber. "Bill' is bound to make a huge success in any line he chooses to pursue.

KATHARINE WYMAN WORTHLEY, A. B. "Kay"

New Gloucester, Maine

"Wandering, musing, with the artist's eye."

Born 1902, Robbinston, Maine; Washington Academy, 1920; Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein; Seniority 3, 4; Spofford 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific 3, 4, President 4; Macfarlane 3, 4; Orphic Society; Y. W. Cabinet 3; English Assistant 3; Mirror Board.

We are all very proud of "Kay", for she's a regular genius; chemistry, cats, and poetry are all second nature to her, yet she is always glad to help us benighted ones whether we want a class song, ideas for a speech, or culinary guidance at a house party. "Kay" will surely go far on the highway of success.

BEATRICE EVANS WRIGHT, A. B. "Bee"

Woolwich, Maine

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness,
And all her paths are peace."

Born June 17, 1905, Woolwich, Maine; Morse High, 1922; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2, 3, 4, 2nd 1, Captain 3; Volley Ball 3, 2nd 2; Basketball 1, 3, 2nd 2; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Tennis 2; Numerals; "B"; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Freshman Prize Speaking; Vice-President Class 2; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet; Sec. 2, Vice-President 3, President 4; Alethea 2, 3; Seniority 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 4.

"Bee" is always smiling, behind the library desk, just home from a long hike, or presiding gracefully as Y. W. president. And she is just running over with good nature, the kind that can always be counted on. Lately "Bee" has become especially interested in the mail, and added correspondence to her long list of activities.

DAVID WYLLIE, JR., B. S. "Dave"

Whitneyville, Conn.

"Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

Born July 11, 1904, Arbroath, Scotland; New Haven High School; Bates Student 2, 3, 4, Sporting Editor 4; Bobcat Board 4; Mirror Board; Varsity Hockey 2, 3, 4, Capt. 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club Director 2; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Vice-President Press Club; Atlas 4; Y. M. C. A.; Assistant in Geology 4.

"Dave" has won many a game for us through the timely use of his big pads and stick, never getting disconraged and always injecting the old "ginger" into the rest of the players. As a Co-educator "Dave" is a faithful follower of the part-time plan. Enthusiasm seems to characterize "Dave" and we know it will lead him on to success.

IVY MAY YOUNG, A. B.

Augusta, Maine

"I am sure care's an enemy to life."

Born April 22, 1904, The Forks, Maine; Skowhegan High School, 1922; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Volley Ball 2nd 1; Hockey 2nd 1, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 1, 2, 3; Hiking 2, 3.

We're sure this is Ivy's motto, for never a care has she. She plays, she works, and never shirks, and always happy is she. Tho' off-campus all our days we know her and love her well, for to know her is to love her and to love her more than well.

JAMES YOUNG, Jr., B. S. "Jimmah"

Rumford, Maine

"Come, let us burst into song."

Born April 29, 1897, Wilmington, Delaware; Rumford High School, 1916, Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Parker Hall Association 2; Baseball 1, 2, 4; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Atlas 4; Mirror Board 4.

He didn't have to be here very long before we were able to find out that "Jimmah" was the life of the party. His assortment of songs and dances would put most professionals to shame. Most people know "Jimmah" for his ready and gentle wit. He is one of the staunchest supporters of everything connected with the school. What better thing can we say of "Jim" than that he is one of the boys. We are pleased to call him friend.

SARAH LOUISA BENSON "Sally"

Bridgewater, Mass.

Born May 20, 1906, Bridgewater, Mass.; Bridgewater High School; Candidate for A. B. Degree; Hiking 1, 2; Hockey 2nd, 2; Volley Ball 2nd, 1, 2; Basketball 1, 2nd 2; Soccer 2; Tennis 2; Numerals; Entre Nous 1; Alethea 2. Died Feb. 26, 1925.

Although "Sally" was with us only two years, yet we all knew and loved her. She was interested in Athletics and full of class loyalty and Bates spirit. She had a place of her own in the affections of 1926 which is filled now only with by fond memories of the dear friend we have lost.

Class Poem, 1926

Something there is that reaches high
  Above the earthbound me,
And loses itself in the blue of the sky,—
  Sharing Infinity.

Something that like a hidden tune—
  Seeking restlessly—
Lilts its way through the dusky gloom
  And sings of the earth, the sky, and the sea.

Though I sail to the ends of the earth and of time,
  If my fleet winged spirit's astray,
There's no beauty nor light in the world that is mine,
  And day follows wearisome day.

Then in the dawn's fresh purity,
  If I watch the low-curling sea,
An empty sky and a sad gray waste
  Bound me utterly.

When high noon comes with its glaring light
  It outshines my brightest dreams,
Then passes along and leaves me here
  Playing with little things.

The deep, brooding hush of twilight,
  Pierced through by a whip-poor-will's call,—
Is only a sign of the coming night—
  And of rest from the day's weary toil.

No hilltop crowned by a purple mist,
  No striving for a far-distant goal,
For no glory of nature nor of life can exist
  Until it is seen by the soul.

The fulness of life has beginning and end
  In the far-seeing, innermost eye,
And he who can't see high enough overhead
  Is crushed by a low hanging sky.

KATHARINE W. WORTHLEY.

Class Ode, 1926

TUNE: "Annie Laurie"

Oh, Bates, thy sons and daughters
To thee would tribute bring,
And with our highest praises
Let thy halls and campus ring.
Let thy halls and campus ring.
For praise to thee is due
For the lessons thou hast taught us,
Thy ideals, and love, so true.

From thy portals, looking backward,
Thy friendships dearer grow;
We would linger where Mt. David
Watches o'er the school below.
Oh, guide us, Alma Mater!
With thy spirit lead us still.
May we ever bring thee honor
And thy high ideals fulfill.

Spring Carnival

The following events were held on Garcelon Field, May 8, in conjunction with the Spring Fever. The winners were as follows:

Tallest—Leighton breasted the tape three inches ahead of Stacy Peck and Paul Gray, while Hillis Pettingill stood several hairs above her nearest rival, Kay Lawton.

Biggest Sleepy Head—Lin Herrick led the men with a grand total of 117 class hours in addition to 25 naps and innumerable dozes for which credit cannot be given. Lorena Scott without effort amassed credits enough to place her in the same class with Herrick. Pat Dunphy also passed Morpheus' course with honors.

Class Grinds—McGrath and Boothby barely nosed out Wilcox and Killeran in the four year grind.

Orators—There was a blanket finish in the oratorical race. After consultation by the judges the laurels were placed upon the respective brows of Harold Walker and Evelyn Butler. John Davis and Elsie Greene talked their way into second position.

Most Efficient—First places in the pentathlon, the efficiency contest, were won by John Miller and Eleanor Sturgis who had a fractional margin over Kirby Baker and Catherine Lawton.

Class Vamps—Chris Lovell's perfect understanding stood her in good stead in this gruelling struggle, with Gwen Purington working her way into second place.

Class Sheik—Jack Karkos was far in the lead until he gave up the race for a steady position. As it is Hussey almost nipped him at the finish.

Best Dressed—Joe Benoit was represented at the games in the person of Paul Gray, first place winner, with Stacy Peck a good second. Gwen Purington won a hollow victory, being the only entrant in the woman's race.

Best Athletes—Roy Sinclair's marked ability in football and hockey placed him at the top of the athletic ladder, with Margaret Hanscom, representing the other side of the campus, by his side. Jack Karkos and Ginnie Ames occupied the next rungs below.

Wittiest—Jimmie Young's ready repartee and Anne Leavitt's dry humor clinched first places for them in this event.

Time Killers—This race ran true to the dope when Jack Gilman and Babe Milliken crashed through to decisive victory.

Man Hater—Babe occupied the limelight again by hating the hardest and longest among the women.

Shortest—Their closeness to the ground gave Betty Stickney and Berube premier honors in the short events.

Class Baby—Lee Waterman and Marguerite Reed starred in the children's events since the others lacked the years necessary for competition in the senior events.

Best Disposition—Joe Folsom and Beatrice Wright grinned their way ahead of the bunch with Art Sager and Aurelia Griffin smiling broadly in the rear.

Best Dancers—Hinds and Sawyer jazzed in two feet ahead of their closest rivals.

Rand Hall Pest—There is no need of announcing the winner, but for the benefit of the blind we will simply mention the world's champion, Jack Gilman.

Biggest Line—Hat Hincks and George Chase lined their way to the fore. Art Sager and Sylvia Meehan came in with their tongues hanging.

Noisiest—Hussey and Stackpole blahed and clattered ahead of the flock, forcing Art Sager and Sylvia Meehan to again take second money.

Best Looking—The feature event of the program brought forth a classy looking field. When the powder of the battle had cleared away, Lloyd Procter and Hillis Pettingill were left standing alone.

Most Popular—Margaret Hanscom and Roy Sinclair shook hands after being adjudged winners by popular vote.

Most Brilliant—Harold Walker and Kay Worthley outshone the rest of the field.

Woman Hater—The matchmakers of the meet tried to arrange a contest between Dode Holman and Babe Milliken but plans fell through when menacing frowns passed between the two.

To be upper-classmen! That is one of the goals for which the lower classes strive. How often we as green and lowly Freshmen, and then as gay young Sophomores, looked upon upper-classmen as persons who had attained great power and authority! But now we are upper-classmen and our next aim is to be dignified Seniors. We have visions, hopes, and aspirations for the coming year. As we approach the time when we shall inherit the duties and powers from the graduating class, we hope that we have proved ourselves worthy of the honor. After completing nearly three years at Bates, we can point with pride to our achievements. Our members have been represented in many college activities. They have won athletic, debating, scholastic, and dramatic honors.

With the same spirit and enthusiasm, we hope to make the class of 1927 one as worthy of Bates as we are proud to have it for our Alma Mater.

Ivy Day Poem, 1927

Like bending birches in the cool, green moss
Beside a pool of clearest, limpid gleams,
And the song the wind plays on its harp, o'nights,
Are the dreams of youth—the carefree, happy dreams.

Like new made walls that rise so straight and true,
And hold within their strength a garden's peace,
Protecting flowers of earnestness and truth,
Are the hopes of youth, hopes that will never cease.

Like pungent smoke that on an autumn night
Ascending from some bonfire's glowing flame,
Are youth's ambitions, streaming ever up,
Ambitions that proud youth would never name.

Oh, in those far off future days,
When all the world besets our garden wall
And it has crumbled; with our dreams a mist,
And we have grown too dull to heed youth's call;

Forever may our ears be kept in tune
To hear the wind's song through the birch harp-strings;
And may the smoke above ambition's fire
Never be acrid with the rancor failure brings.

Oh, Ivy! Cover with your soft, enfolding green
The crumbled walls; protect the garden's truth,
And help us to keep mellow and still sweet
Those finer, inner beauties of the soul of youth.

S-o-p-h-o-m-o-r-e-s — Sophomores, at last! What a relief to feel that no longer may we be hurried from our downy cot, any time at night, to do the bidding of some upperclassman; no longer must we wear ugly or childish clothing to announce to the world our station in life.

We have grown up, and have stood ready to do our best, in every line, for our Alma Mater. And we believe we have contributed well, for we have produced some of the best men and women athletes. To literary, debating, dramatic, and musical organizations we have given more than the usual quota.

We want to help make Bates better in every way, and in the two years that remain to us, we hope so to achieve, and to conduct ourselves that Bates will be proud of the Class of 1928.

FRESHMEN

Class of 1929

Officers

President, Francis H. Wise

Vice-President, Miriam E. Alexander

Secretary, Frances L. Cobb

Treasurer, Stanley I. Perham

As we, the class of 1929, approach the end of our first year at Bates, we feel that freshman days are ones always to be remembered. We hope that the rest of our college days will leave with us even dearer memories.

We indeed appreciate the interest which the faculty and upperclassmen have shown in us while we were so new and inexperienced. We have striven to do our best and enter into the true spirit of Bates. We have been well represented in many college activities. We have contributed some members to athletics and debating, while other members have been successful in dramatics.

As we look to the future when we shall be Sophomores and later upperclassmen, may we keep up our good record and uphold the ideals of Bates in making the class of 1929 one of which our Alma Mater may be proud!

Since 1910 the Bates College Student Assembly has been an active organization on the campus. The organization is composed of every male member of the student body who is in good standing. The purpose of the organization is to promote co-operation in carrying out the general policy of the college, to work for the best interests of the college, and to improve conditions among the students.

Members of the Student Council are the officers of the Assembly. There are ten members on the Council; four seniors; three juniors; two sophomores; and one freshman. These men hold office by virtue of a popular election by members of the Assembly.

It is the duty of the Council to act on all matters pertaining to the interests of the male student body, to foster friendly relations among the students, and to adjust the freshmen to their new environment.

The Student Government Association for Bates women became an active organization on the campus in 1921. The Judiciary Board is composed of fourteen members; the officers, house seniors, class, town and off-campus representatives, all of whom are elected by popular vote. With the Dean of Women as its advisor, the organization has power to act on all cases brought before it.

The Bates Association is a member of the National Intercollegiate Association, and of the New England Association for Co-educational Colleges and thereby has the privilege of sending delegates to annual conferences.

Student Government is a well-established institution at Bates. It feels that it is successful not only as a governing body but as an organization which has helped the Bates girl to be loyal, honest, and fair to herself and to others. It appreciates the splendid enthusiasm, spirit, and co-operation, of both faculty and student body in its activities this year.

Several changes and innovations have taken place as a result of the efforts of the committee this year. The general attitude in the dining hall has improved considerably. More time at meals and a bit more care have been the essential features of improvement. The orchestra has been retained throughout the year and the music has been an excellent attraction to the meal hour. Several times the dining hall has been the scene of special after-dinner features. The clog dancing of "Red" Page will long be remembered by the diners.

The Commons has assumed more of the spirit of an eating club than ever before. We believe it is an ideal to be worked for and this year's committee has tried to realize this feature as nearly as possible.

No mention of the Commons would be complete without a word for Mother Stevie. She will long hold a place of love and respect in the hearts of all Bates men who have dined at the Commons.

In presenting this year's Mirror the Class of 1926 does not claim to have surpassed the efforts of any preceding class. If the Mirror is a better book it is because the class has profited by the mistakes of other year books, and by the association with members of previous Mirror boards.

This year's edition of the Mirror is the result of months of preparation and earnest endeavor in an attempt to leave behind a fitting memorial to the Class of 1926.

But the 1926 Mirror is not merely a senior year book. Every organization on the campus is represented together with a complete record of events and activities that have taken place during the year 1925-26. For innovations it has introduced a revised pictorial section and several new pages of snapshots.

The season of 1925-26 for the Bates Student was one of prosperity and steady advancement. No end of praise should be given to the present board for its earnest efforts in raising the Student to a place among the best college weeklies in New England.

Last spring the Student became a member of the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association. The purpose of the association is to encourage exchanges between the colleges, and to learn what the other institutions are doing. For this purpose the position of Intercollegiate Editor was established.

Another advance was the publishing for the first time of a rotogravure section, in connection with the Maine game, which contained pictures of the players of both teams. The dream of the present board has been to print a larger Student. It will be the task of the succeeding board to realize this dream.

The year '25-'26 marks the publication of the first Bates Comic,—The Bobcat.

The need for such a magazine has been felt for a long time by Bates students but the first step toward publishing a comic was taken by John Davis, the Editor-in-Chief of the first Bobcat Board. To him much of the credit should be given for the success of the first numbers.

Three issues were put out by the first board and while they doubtless did not attain the height that might be reached, they at least laid the foundation for what will in time become a Bates tradition.

The duties of this organization are to control the publication of the Student, the Garnet, and the Bobcat.

A review of the year's achievements shows that much has been accomplished of constructive merit. The Association authorized the first publication of the Bobcat. It revised the constitution of the Association so that the board of directors for 1926 and following years would be an impartial body to consider the general policies of the Student and the Bobcat.

John L. Miller, editor-in-chief of the Student, was sent as a delegate to the Intercollegiate Parley, held at Wesleyan University on December 4, 5, 6. Presidents Meiklejohn, Wood, and Goodnow were among the speakers. The purpose of the convention was to discuss college problems.

To the New England Intercollegiate Newspaper Association held at Boston College four delegates were sent. Kirby S. Baker, managing editor of the Student, was elected first president of that organization. The Bates Student was authorized to become a member of that new association.

"College ideals are Christian ideals", instead of "are college ideals Christian ideals"? Upon this basis we have worked to make the Y. M. C. A. express the college man's religion, rather than model it. "We'll sit on the steps of Hathorn Hall" has been a back number, boys—hats off to "Mac"!

The Cabin—The "Y" cabinet held its own setting-up conference at Camp Rich. The general secretary and assistant, members of the advisory board and cabinet were present. The coming year's work was mulled over. Fine feeds and brisk weather gave the regular camping atmosphere. It was a success from every point of view and promises to become an annual affair.

To the Freshman—The good old "Y" tent adorned the campus as usual. Even the boys who had been around sought information by Uncle Johnny's elm. Other Bates traditions were kept up by "Stag" and "I am—You are" parties. The first and last Freshman class in co-education was held at Lake Grove, under the direction of Professor and Mrs. Chase. Needless to say that the "Freshman Bible" was, is, and always will be.

Economics—The employment bureau has been busy. Many steady jobs have been secured through the "Y" this year, as well as odd jobs. Upper classmen found profit in collecting one hundred and sixty-five dollars from the second-hand book department.

Dormitory—The inter-dormitory contest in original dramatic productions presented an innovation to the Bates campus. The average attendance was one hundred. Social life of this kind goes far to produce a united spirit on the campus.

Religious Meetings—"Y" meetings have been varied every other week by a stag party or a dormitory production. In this way we aim to have better speakers and meetings that appeal to college men. The average attendance at the "Y" meeting was fifty-five.

Student Volunteers—Ray Buker has done a lot of work with the Student Volunteers this year. Regular meetings are held. A flourishing group is now at work promoting the missionary spirit. There are two personal service groups meeting as a result of the visit of Paul Braisted, a former Brown man.

Conferences—We have sent delegates to Silver Bay, New England Field Council, and to Northfield. We also co-operated with the Student Council in sending a delegate to the World Court Conference, recently held at Princeton. These Conferences are out-growths of common student sentiment. They benefit us greatly by shaping our own policies. They also let other colleges know that Bates men also have opinions of their own.

Religious Leaders—We have co-operated with "Prexy" in bringing to the campus several outstanding religious leaders. Dr. Charles W. Gilkey of Chicago was with us for a few days in the fall. The Day of Prayer was observed on January 21, with Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay as the chapel speaker. The "Y" prayer service at 8.00 A. M. was well attended. During the month of February, Dr. Allen K. Foster addressed the entire student body several times, in addition to various group gatherings of an informal sort.

Spring Work—The following projects were ahead of us:—special Lenten programs to be observed at the regular "Y" meetings; the Maine Conference at the University of Maine, to which we plan to send fifteen delegates; the organization of a Freshman Cabinet; and the publication of a special bulletin —a news sheet featuring Y. M. C. A. work, both local and inter-collegiate.

Thus we feel encouraged that this year the Y. M. C. A. has been able to mean more to a greater number of the men of the college. It has endeavored to give expression to the idealism of the campus and to provide a channel through which students might live up to the best that is in them.

To Bates girls, Wednesday evening means Y. W. and an hour together to think about things fine and worth-while. The cabinet, composed of officers and nine committee chairmen, meets every Wednesday to discuss the plans and business of the organization. In May, the retiring and newly-elected cabinets meet at a house party at Ocean Park in order that the new members, by close association with the old, may better understand the duties of the coming year.

HELPS FOR FRESHMEN

Through the Y. W. "big sister" plan, the upperclass girls are busy during the summer, writing letters to their freshman sisters. Handbooks are sent to the members of the new class which introduce them to some of the activities, customs, and ideals of Bates. When the new members arrive in Lewiston in September, Y. W. girls meet all trains and willingly help their new friends as much as possible. The slope of Mt. David is the scene of a reception at which the Freshman girls are for the first time officially welcomed by the faculty ladies and upperclass girls. On the first Saturday night, the Y. W. and the Y. M. give a joint reception in Chase Hall to both men and women. Then there is that delightful and interesting class ride and picnic at Lake Auburn, where many new friendships are formed.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCES

This year, Bates sent her usual delegation to Camp Maqua. There on the shores of Lake Thompson, the girls spent ten happy days enjoying the games, stories, and lectures. Every year the girls bring back from these conferences valuable suggestions. Bates was represented at the Northfield Conference in February and later at the Maine Conference of Christian Associations at the University of Maine.

DISCUSSION GROUPS AND BIBLE STUDY

Each weekly meeting of the Y. W., whatever the program may be, has a fine idea or thought, presenting something which will increase the spirit of friendliness, service, and co-operation among the girls. These ideas are brought to us often by one of our own members, a faculty speaker, or, it may be, in the form of an open forum or pageant, as "The Wayside Piper."

This year, as previously, study groups were held on Sunday afternoons to discuss with faculty leaders problems of the Bible and Christian life. Dr. Tubbs conducted the Junior and Senior class, Mrs. Gray the Sophomore, and Mrs. Chase the Freshman. We indeed appreciate the helpful suggestions and splendid thoughts of these leaders.

SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

The social service work is one of the big factors of the Y. W. College girls aid the Lewiston Y. W. C. A. in many ways. Several girls instruct classes in reading and sewing for foreign women and children, while others are leaders of girls' clubs at the Auburn "Y". Every Sunday afternoon a group of girls visit the Old Ladies' Home to brighten them with songs and words of cheer. Several times this year, many children have been made happy at parties in the girls' gymnasium. Visits to the sick and shut-ins, flowers, and gifts express the spirit of cheer and service the girls try to spread.

Bates girls also help their foreign brothers and sisters through the Student Friendship Fund. This year Golden Rule Sunday was observed, the money saved being contributed to the Near East Relief.

ANNUAL "Y" BAZAAR.

One of the big events of the year is the Christmas bazaar. This year Chase Hall was made gay by booths representing the seasons of the year. All the classes, alumni, faculty ladies and town girls had very attractive articles to display. The food and candy tables were as popular as ever. Refreshments were sold in a delightful little tea garden, which was artistically arranged at on end of the hall. In the evening, an original musical comedy was given in the Little Theatre.

We feel that the Y. W. work is worthwhile and hope that it will always hold the same place in the hearts of Bates women.

The Student Volunteer Group is composed of young men and women whose purpose it is, "if God permit", to serve Him in lands outside of the United States.

The Group started with only three Volunteers this fall. Before Christmas the numbers had been more than doubled. However, this society does not measure its success in terms of quantity, but rather in terms of sincerity and depth of purpose.

From time to time this Group holds open meetings which present the challenge of the Foreign Field to the student body.

The Cosmos Club was organized in the fall of 1923, for the express purpose of providing means whereby those students contemplating some definite form of Christian service might be stimulated through association with one another. By "some definite form of Christian service" is meant to include such fields of service as the ministry, missionary enterprises, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. work, social service work, and the teaching of religious education.

Several members of the club are fulfilling responsible positions of religious leadership in community and denominational work. It is the consensus of opinion that each club member ought to be willing to engage himself in some sort of service during student days.

The Men's Musical Club is a union of the Men's Orchestra, the Men's Glee Club, and the Garnet Quartet. The purpose of this organization is to give to the college a strong and lasting club of the best and most musically inclined students. While the club is but yet in the process of organizing there is every reason to believe that in succeeding years it will be one of the most active societies on the campus.

The Girls' Glee Club is one of the most thriving clubs on campus. All women are eligible and the final membership, selected on competitive basis, includes some of the best women's voices on campus.

The club has worked hard under the directorship of Professor Crafts and the results are gratifying. On March fifth the girls gave a joint concert at Lewiston City Hall, with the Bowdoin Glee Club and the Bates Orphic Society. Concerts have also been given during the year in Auburn, Portland and Poland.

The College Choir is an organization of which we are justly proud. It has been fortunate in having Prof. Seldon Crafts as director this year, and at chapel, every Thursday morning, we have been favored by a special selection from this group. They have also given two special services,—one at Christmas, and the other in May, to which the general public was invited.

The Orphic Society has become one of the most active organizations on the Bates campus. This club was established for the purpose of creating among its members an appreciation of the best music and to present to the public various programs throughout the year.

The society not only co-operates with other organizations in presenting programs, but also gives several concerts on the campus and elsewhere. One of the first appearances of the club this year was at the Million Dollar Play, ("The Youngest"). An appearance at the French Club plays soon followed. Later in the year they appeared in the first joint concert of the Bates-Bowdoin Musical Clubs.

The club has had this year some fine material with which to work. Perhaps no greater interest and enthusiasm has ever before been shown. The society owes much of its success to its conductor, Professor Crafts, whose ability and interest have been very valuable to the club.

Macfarlane Club is one of the youngest organizations on campus. It was started in 1917 for students interested in music, and is named for Will C. Macfarlane, formerly Municipal Organist of Portland.

The club gives an opportunity for students interested in music to meet twice a month. The program is in charge of a member, and it usually features campus talent. This year has been devoted to a study of German and American music with phases of vocal, orchestral, operatic, and violin music.

Each member takes part in the yearly spring concert, which is open to the public. Macfarlane Club has been fortunate in having the interest of Professor Seldon T. Crafts, who has encouraged as well as advised us during the year.

The Jordan Scientific Society was organized in 1910 and named in honor of Dr. Lyman Granville Jordan. The purpose of this organization is to promote interest in scientific thought and activity outside of the required class-room work. During the year many interesting papers were read at the meetings which brought out the value of scientific research. Dr. Tubbs gave a very interesting lecture at one of these meetings on "Our Conception of the Universe". The outstanding achievement of this year was the very successful Jordan Scientific Exhibition which was held March 18 and 19, showing in a very practical manner the work of the society.

Very interesting meetings have been held every other Monday evening, with discussion of such matters as the World Court, Chinese development, and European dictatorship. At an open meeting of the club Hon. William Tudor Gardiner, Speaker of the Maine House, gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "The Maine Legislature".

The club is composed of Junior and Senior students who are doing advanced work in German. The meetings are held twice a month, and consist of varied programs including German opera, art, literature and folk songs.

Last fall Mr. Berkelman gave the club an entertaining account of his experiences in Germany last summer. Macfarlane Club invited us to unite with them for an evening of German music and an interesting lecture on "Tannhauser" by Professor Harms. A list of our pleasures would not be complete without mentioning a very pleasant dinner party Professor Leonard gave at his house for our Senior members.

Since 1916 the Phil-Hellenic Club has been one of the well-known societies on the campus. Its members are composed of those students who are especially interested in the Greek language. Its meetings are held on every other Tuesday night in the month, when various Greek subjects are dealt with, events taking place in modern Greece, music customs and literature.

The big events in the club calendar are the annual symposium held in the Spring, Greek plays given every two years or so, and the delightful entertainment at the Frangedakis home in the city.

The club has done a great deal, both for its members and also for greater co-operation with the city Greeks, and hopes to continue its work with greater and more far-reaching effects.

Throughout the year, the Spofford Literary Club has maintained its traditional policy of weekly meetings. Every Tuesday evening, short stories, poetry, essays and sketches are read for criticism and discussion among the members, who are chosen solely for their interest in original composition. Much material of interest and merit has been read by the members, while President Raymond Chapman has contributed some especially fine stories and poetry.

A Bohemian party and the purchase of recent fiction were also activities of '25-'26.

Le Cercle Francais aims to give to its members an increased knowledge and appreciation of the French language.

Discussions that have been taken up by the club this year include the lives and influence of numerous French authors, current events and cities in France, as well as several lectures by Professor Brown and Professor Townsend.

The group of French plays was very successfully given, the presentation of which has become an enjoyable event to both townspeople and students alike.

The success of this club is due in large part to the enthusiasm and interest of Professors Brown and Townsend.

Sodalitas Latina is the newest society on our campus, being formed in 1926. Its membership is limited to the Seniors who are studying Latin and to those Juniors who have taught Latin at least one year.

The desire to promote an interest in teaching Latin and the need of constructive ideas for this teaching, led to the formation of the club. The meetings thus far have been very worth while, as methods of teaching have been discussed, the value of the classics, and the lives and influence of various Latin authors.

Much credit for the successful start of this society may be given to the enthusiasm and aid of Professor Knapp.

Ramsdell Scientific is an honorary society, composed of young women, particularly interested in science. The members are all from the Junior and Senior classes and must be recommended by the heads of the two science departments.

"Science in its Relationship to Present Day Problems" and the "Passamaquoddy Bay Project" were the subjects of two original papers read in the club this year. Occasionally outside speakers give scientific discussions. One very interesting lecture this season was "Among the Stars", by Dr. Tubbs. Open meetings are frequently held and trips are taken to points of scientific interest.

Established in 1925, the Women's Politics Club is a fairly new organization on the Bates campus. The membership includes eleven Seniors and Juniors, whose election to the club is based upon their recommendation from the heads of the departments of Political and Social Science.

The club deals primarily with national problems. This year, some of the topics that have been brought up are: the Chinese situation and its causes, problems of child labor, the United States and her foreign debt claims.

Much of the success of this organization is due to Professor Gould and Professor Carroll, both of whom meet with the club and guide and add to the general discussions.

Seniority, one of the most important of the girls' societies, was organized with the aim of encouraging literary ability among its members, as well as developing an appreciation of the best in drama, art, and literature. The members are mainly Seniors, although each year five Juniors are elected to perpetuate the spirit of Seniority. The membership list is determined by excellence in English.

The bi-monthly meetings are given over to the discussion of various literary subjects—modern poetry and the opera being especially discussed this year. Several open meetings have been held, with Dr. Finnie and Mr. Berkelman as speakers.

Alethea is a literary association whose members belong to the Junior and Sophomore classes. Its main purpose, to promote an interest in the liberal arts and a knowledge of current problems, is attained by bi-monthly meetings where programs are given by the members. Alethea has also a very important social side to its activities. The Christmas Party, the supper at Thorncrag, the picnics on the river bank, furnish not only fun but serve to bind the members into an enthusiastic comradeship for the more serious work of the club.

Entre Nous is the Freshman women's literary society and it is open to every Freshman girl. Here is given a chance for some social life as well as the opportunity of developing unforeseen talents in music, dramatics, and literature.

Dramatization of well-known characters and scenes, musical and poetical interpretations, are often included in the programs, which are given twice each month. Some of the meetings, however, are given over entirely to parties and picnics.

In the fall of each year, Entre Nous holds a final meeting where it entrusts its organization to the new Freshman class.

The Student Press Club was organized in the Fall of 1925. All the editors and managers of the Bates Student Board are members of this organization.

The object of this society is "to effect greater co-operation among the workers on the Bates Student, to enlarge the scope of the Student, to help it to be of greater service to Bates College, and to offer as practical training as possible in journalism."

From time to time outside speakers are secured. Talks by Mr. Arthur G. Staples and by Capt. Dan Dexter have been a great source of practical information.

Lambda Alpha Society was first organized in September, 1925, and is open to all town and off-campus girls. Its purpose is to promote better feeling between the town girls and the dorm girls and it is a branch of Student Government.

The meetings are held bi-monthly in the Town Girls' room. Through the interest and aid of Mrs. Edwin F. Pierce, a member of the board of trustees, the rest room was redecorated and enlarged this year and makes a very convenient gathering place between classes.

One splendid piece of work which Lambda Alpha has done this year is the dressing of fifty large dolls, for Christmas for the children who are the state wards. The only entertainment that the organization has presented is "Campus Night." Each dormitory put on a little act, and the proceeds were used to buy furniture for the room.

DRAMATICS

The Million Dollar Play

For the fourth time we have been charmed by the dramatic ability of our undergraduates in the annual Million Dollar Play. This year, on the evenings of January 13 and 14, Philip Barry's three act comedy "The Youngest" was produced.

It is the story of the life of the youngest child in a large family. Though ambitious to become an author, the family insists that he enter business. The coming of the heroine, whose motto is "Treat a mouse like a lion, and he will grow a mane over night," entirely changes the life of the Youngest, and brings the play to a successful close.

Miss Louise Clifford acted as directress, and as always the result was a play charming and polished as only she can make it.

The production was both financially and artistically successful, and we look forward to the next play, feeling, as we do, that the Million Dollar play is now an annual event.

French Club Plays

Continuing the well established custom, the members of Le Cercle Francais this year presented in the Little Theatre two French Comedies, L'Etincelle and L'Avare. The plays were attended by many Bates students as well as a large number of French people from Lewiston and Auburn. For the uniqueness in the costumes and the cleverness in the acting, credit is due not only to the members of the cast but also to the coaches, Professor Brown, Professor Townsend, and Mr. John Miller. The delightful program presented each year is proof of the progress of the French Club, and we wish them the greatest success for the future.

The English 4A Players is an organization well known on the campus for its dramatic activities. For several years students interested in dramatics had presented plays, but not until 1922 was this group organized. Much credit is due Professor A. Craig Baird of the English department who first directed and encouraged the group in all its endeavors. The club has shown a great deal of interest in furthering the Little Theatre movement at Bates. The club encourages students to write original plays, the best of which are often selected for presentation. Only students possessing a good amount of dramatic ability are eligible to membership in the club. The club this year has been unusually active, presenting three groups of plays. Each program has attracted a large audience and has won a great deal of praise.

Men Debaters

The year 1925-26 has brought to Bates continued success in debating. This year the men of the college have participated in nine intercollegiate debates and the women in six. The men met in debate Oxford University, California University, Massachusetts Agricultural College, George Washington University, Georgetown University, Williams College, Yale University, Bowdoin College and the University of Pennsylvania. The women debated the men of McGill University of Canada, Hunter College, the New Jersey College for Women, George Washington University, Radcliffe and Wellesley. This is the third year of competition for the women's team.

The coaching was done very creditably by Professor J. Murray Carroll, ably assisted by Professors Ward Browning and Grosvenor M. Robinson. The Bates policy in debating has not changed, namely, to give as many individuals as possible the benefit of intercollegiate competition and to put into competition well trained teams. The result of this policy has been beneficial. While Bates has lost debates, nevertheless it has won the majority of its contest as was to be expected of well-trained teams.

The Bates-Oxford Debate

Bates College, after having completed a successful debating tour in the British Isles in the summer of 1925, met on the rostrum of City Hall, Lewiston, Oxford University in the fifth annual Bates-Oxford Debate.

The Oxford representatives were three distinguished past presidents of the Oxford Debating Union: Mr. H. V. Lloyd-Jones of Jesus College, Mr. H. V. S. Wederburn of Balliol, and Mr. R. H. Bernays of Worcester College. Bates was represented by John P. Davis, '26; Harold H. Walker, '26, and Fred T. Googins, '27, all three of whom had debated in England last summer. The subject for discussion was prohibition.

The Bates team, upholding prohibition, convinced the majority of the audience by a vote of 696 to 107 of the merits of their side of the question. Governor Brewster of Maine presided. The two teams were entertained prior to the debate by the Rickers of Poland Spring and by the Rotary, Kiwanis, and Lions Clubs of Lewiston and Auburn.

The Bates-California Debate

A Bates team composed of James A. Howell, '26, and Elmer Campbell, '27, met a team of graduate students from the University of California. In this debate there was no decision, but a vote by the audience on the merits of the question revealed a majority in favor of the side upheld by Bates. The subject for debate was the censorship of the newspapers. The Bates team was against censorship. Dean Nixon of Bowdoin presided.

The Southern Trip

Harold H. Walker, '26; Fred T. Googins, '27, and Frederic H. Young, '27, made up the team that debated M. A. C., George Washington and Georgetown Universities in a trip South. The team was victorious in its contests with George Washington and with M. A. C. where they won by unanimous vote. They lost, after a stiff battle, to Georgetown by a vote of two to one.

The Bates-Williams Debate

Charles H. Guptill, '28, and Briggs T. Whitehouse, '28, won a vote of the audience in a debate with Williams College at Williamstown on March 27, 1926. The subject debated was the right of free speech.

The Bates-Yale Debate

On April 10, 1926, Fred T. Googins, '27; Charles H. Guptill, '28, and Ralph M. Blagden, '28, debated Yale University on the abolition of R. O. T. C., at Lewiston. The Bates team opposing R. O. T. C. won by a vote of the judges, 2 to 1. Judge Henry W. Oakes presided.

The Bates-Bowdoin Mixed Debate

On April 20, 1926, Frederic H. Young, Bates '27, and Lawrence M. Read, Bowdoin '26, debated A. Oswell Brown, Bates '28, and Hayward H. Colburn, Bowdoin '28, before the Chamber of Commerce of Lewiston in an open forum debate. Professor J. Murray Carroll presided. The subject debated was the improvement of Maine's Water Power Resources.

The Bates-University of Pennsylvania Debate

John P. Davis, '26; Charles H. Guptill, '28, and Maxwell A. H. Wakely, '28, debated the University of Pennsylvania on April 30, 1926, on the abolition of R. O. T. C. The Bates team defended R. O. T. C. Bates won by a unanimous decision. John L. Reade presided.

Bates-McGill Debate

Ethel M. Manning, '26; Catherine F. Lawton, '26, and Florence I. Burck, '27, debated McGill University men's team in Lewiston on the subject of entrance into the World Court. The Bates team won the majority of the votes of the audience.

The Southern Trip

Evelyn I. Butler, '26; Elsie Greene, '26, and Ada Mandelstam, '26, composed the team which debated Hunter College, New Jersey College for Women and George Washington University women's team. At Hunter the debate was of the no-decision type. At New Jersey College and at George Washington the women were victorious by a judges' vote of two to one. New Jersey College for Women was defeated for the first time in its history.

Women Debaters

The Women's Eastern Intercollegiate League

Bates was fortunate this year in being invited to become a member of the Women's Eastern Intercollegiate League. In this league the Bates Women debated Radcliffe and Wellesley Colleges.

Catherine F. Lawton, '26, and Geneve Hincks, '26, were members of the team that defeated Radcliffe by a unanimous decision of the judges on March 20, 1926. The subject for discussion was the repeal of the espionage laws.

Debating Wellesley in Lewiston, on the same night that the Bates-Radcliffe debate took place, a team composed of Ethel M. Manning and Florence I. Burck was defeated by a judges' vote of two to one. The subject was also on the repeal of the espionage laws. Mrs. K. C. M. Sills presided.

The Sophomore Men's Debate

The men chosen to debate in the Sophomore prize debate were John F. Davis, Walter Ulmer, William Marshall and Arland Jenkins. The debate will take place May 14, 1926.

The Sophomore Women's Debate

The Sophomore women will debate the question of prohibition on Saturday, May 17. Lillian A. Giles and Beatrice A. Small will take the affirmative side of the question, opposing Clara F. Parnell and Cythera Coburn.

The Freshman Prize Debate

The six speakers selected to debate in the Freshman prize debate were: Miriam McMichael, Walter O. Hodsdon, Ruth Conant, Eugenia Southard, John Murray Carroll, Jr., and Paul Chesley.

The Freshman Debating Council

Originating in 1925, the Freshman Debating Council was again formed under the direction of John P. Davis and Professor Ward Browning. This year it enlarged its scope so as to include women members. The officers elected were Walter O. Hodsdon, President; Miriam McMichael, Vice-President, and Samuel Brown, Secretary. The Council met fortnightly and debated many interesting and vital present day questions.

The Bates Interscholastic League

In many ways the League this year far excelled the leagues of previous years. There were forty-six schools that actually debated in the League, while others who had enrolled had to withdraw owing to various unforeseen difficulties. This year three cups were offered instead of one as in past years. In addition to a large loving cup for the winner, there was also an award offered by the Debating Council for the team getting second place and a cup donated by President Gray for the best individual speaker. Buckfield High School won first prize and Waterville Senior High School was awarded second prize. Francis E. Welch of Waterville was adjudged best individual speaker.

The Outing Club has held a position of growing importance from year to year, since its organization in 1920. This year has not been an exception to the rule.

The outstanding accomplishment of the year has been the building of the cabin at Thorncrag, a greater undertaking than any hitherto attempted by the Club. It is a large cabin built on the plan of the Dartmouth "feed cabin", rather than for over-night parties. It is completely equipped to accommodate twenty-five or thirty persons. Its spacious accommodations and nearness to the campus, being only about a mile and a half away, make it ideal for larger parties than any of the other cabins, and also for shorter expeditions.

The cabin stands on land given to the Stanton Bird Club by Dr. and Mrs. Anthony and Miss Kate Anthony in 1921. The Stanton Bird Club is a society founded by a group of local people in 1918 to create interest in birds particularly, but in all phases of nature in general. It was named in honor of "Uncle Johnny" Stanton, beloved professor at Bates, who loved birds and nature beyond most men. The Society now has a membership of over two hundred and meets every month in Carnegie Science Hall. The present officers of the club are Mr. A. L. Kavanaugh, president; Mrs. W. H. Hartshorn, secretary; and Mr. Bernerd Chase, treasurer. The members of the Outing Club deeply appreciate the action of the Stanton Bird Club in permitting the cabin to be built on the Thorncrag property. The cabin has been named "Stanton Lodge" in token of this appreciation.

The cabin at Sabattus maintains its old place in spite of the popularity of the new cabin. Its comparative inaccessibility and rugged surroundings give it a charm all its own. Moreover, the fact that it was our first cabin, built largely by student labor, and dedicated to one who did so much for the Outing Club, gives the Rich Cabin a place in our hearts that can never be usurped.

The Albany Cabin is practically inaccessible in winter-time, but in spite of that inconvenience, it has been visited several times this year. Plans for parties there in the spring-time are being made.

Plans are also under way for an expedition this spring similar to the Mt. Katahdin trip of last year, but it has not as yet been decided which of a number of mountains will be scaled or when the trip will take place.

The Winter Sports Team, under the patronage of the club, has had a year which has been successful in every way, and the club is justly proud of the team which has done much for Bates. Following is a list of the meets in which our men competed:

Bates did not place.

The State Meet was held on the Bates campus during the three-day Winter Carnival, which was the most important of the winter activities of the club. Besides the winter-sports events there were the masquerade carnival on the ice and the Carnival Hop, both of which were acclaimed as the best social functions of the year.

But carnivals, winter-sports, and mountain-climbing are merely the spectacular features of the Outing Club work. There is still another side which perhaps more than these expresses the true ideal of the Outing Club—the ideal of the enjoyment of the out-of-doors by the greatest number of individuals during the greatest possible extent of time. This ideal has been carried out this year to a greater extent than ever before. Not only have there been snow-shoeing parties of different sized groups, but there has also been supper hikes in the warmer weather of fall and spring. That these have been largely attended may be seen by the fact that at one such picnic during the fall there were over two hundred and fifty persons present.

The cabins have been open to the students at all times. In the winter time such Outing Club equipment as toboggans, snowshoes, and skis have been available for student use.

The Outing Club aims to carry its activities throughout all seasons and in so many different kinds of ways that it will reach every student and give him opportunity to enjoy the out-of-doors. Those of us who have answered the call of the Outing Club are rich in memories of hours well spent before open fires or under the stars, or in laughing comradeship with friends made close by such common experiences.

The Varsity Club is one of the strongest and most active clubs on the campus. The purpose of the club is to take care of visiting teams and to promote the welfare of intercollegiate and interscholastic athletics. This year, just as in former years, this club promoted the interscholastic basketball tournament and was largely instrumental in the tourney's success.

Bates—Bowdoin

The outstanding feature of the 1925 Season was the great victory over Bowdoin. The Garnet went into the game outweighed, and were scarcely conceded a chance for victory over the Polar Bears. At the start of the game it seemed as though the Garnet would have a tough time, with a muddy field to play on, and a heavier team to play against, but the Bobcats showed their mettle, and outplayed the Black and White in almost every department of the game. Only in plugging the center of the line did the Polar Bear come anywhere near approaching the ability of the Bates gridders.

The entire college moved to Brunswick en masse to watch the great classic. Bowdoin scored in the first period when Farrington took a punt on his own 25 yard line and streaked down the field to the goal line 75 yards away. The try for point was missed, and Bowdoin took a 6-0 lead in the first period. This did not seem to bother the Bobcats in the least, and several times they made furious assaults on the Bowdoin line, gaining at almost every play. Charley Ray and Jack Karkos tore off great gains around the ends, and Hubbard ripped up the Bowdoin line for gains, but within ten yards or so of the opposing line the attack was halted by a fighting Polar Bear. The spirit of the team was not dented in the least, and it seemed that it was merely a matter of time before a score was pushed over.

But time rolled on and the last period was well over. With only a few minutes to play Captain Folsom fell on a loose ball, and with the goal 90 yards away the Garnet started that last minute offense that ended one of the greatest games in the history of the game in the state. Charles Ray threw a pass to Palmer which netted 35 yards, and Karkos took about eight around the end and still the goal line was about 50 yards away. The play was called, and Charley Ray dropped back and seemed to hold the ball almost too long. His arm swung back and then forward in that well known sideward swing. The pigskin sailed through the air for 45 yards into the waiting arms of Roy Sinclair, who was but a yard or so from the goal. As he caught the ball he was tackled by Farrington, but the Bowdoin star was too late to prevent the score. The Bates supporters went wild, and suddenly they quieted down. With a tied score, and but a few seconds to play, the try for point was made by Sinclair, who kicked a perfect drop. The next few seconds before the final whistle will always remain a blank to the supporters of the Garnet. What happened, no one knows, and no one seems to care. Bates had won, and a well balanced team which worked together as a unit had won one of the greatest victories ever chalked up by a Bates team.

State Series

Bates opened the State Series with the Maine game at Lewiston. The Garnet, up until this time, had not shown any offense in any of her games, and the work of the Bates team was carefully watched by the fans of the state. In the first fifteen minutes the Garnet, relying on old fashioned football, marched down through a team of bigger men to a touchdown, and at the end of the first period they were on the big end of a 7-2 score. Maine scored in the second period on a march down the field when Barrows took it over, and it took Maine three plays to gain the four yards necessary to score. The goal was made, and added to the safety earlier in the game the University was two points to the good. The battle raged up and down the field with both teams about evenly matched as far as ability went. The work of Sinclair in running back punts was one of the features of the game. Charley Ray threw some great passes, and the work of Hubbard in hitting the line showed that he was up with the best of the fullbacks in the state. In the last period the Maine gridders got their big break. Dickson recovered a fumble and raced 40 yards for the touchdown giving his team a 16-7 lead. The Garnet could not overcome the lead, although they made valient efforts to score, and they were forced to a defeat, fighting all the way.

The Colby game at Waterville was a great setback. Waterville seems to be a bad place for the Garnet gridders to play. Bates plays could not get started, and a heavy and hard hitting Colby team plugged their way to a 20-0 victory. Bates fought; no one can say any team fought harder, but they were up against a team that had one of its great days, and they could not be stopped. The backs made some fine runs, and the plays were well carried through, but every effort that the Garnet made to score was broken up by the Blue and Gray. Colby grew stronger as the game progressed, and when the final whistle blew they were the victors of a hard fought battle. It seemed as though the Garnet were fighting an unbeatable team, and Bates played as hard a game as was possible. Every man fought for all that was in him, and although Colby won, it was a hard earned victory, and every point meant the result of hard labor. This game ended the State Series, the University of Maine winning the bunting, with Colby second, Bates third, and Bowdoin last.

Other Games

The Garnet started the season with an easy victory over Lowell Textile at Lowell. The Bobcats came home from their first game with an 18-0 victory. The first game was an easy one, and it gave many of the newer men plenty of experience. McCurdy, playing his first Varsity game showed great ability as a punter, and the work of the men who came up from the Freshman team of last year was worthy of commendation. This game was a test of the new system installed by Coach Wiggin, and everything worked, plays were run off with the greatest of precision, and the work of the team as a whole gave great promise of producing a winning combination.

The second game of the year was with Mass. Aggies which was one of the unbeaten teams of the year. The day was wet, and a heavy rain fell all through the game. The teams played on a field ankle deep in soft mud, and after the first play it was hard to recognize any of the players, let alone discriminating between Bates and the Aggies. The visitors brought out a team of huskies that outweighed the Garnet about ten pounds to a man, and on the muddy field the light aggregation that was placed against the Aggies had little show. Bates played an entirely defensive game, and only once did she show any attempt to try an offense. Two plays gained fifteen yards each, and those were the only two offensive plays used by Bates throughout the entire game. Every time the Garnet received the ball they kicked on the first play, and the Aggies were taxed to the utmost to register three touchdowns, and they met with a hard fighting line in every play. The Aggies made no long runs, and their gains averaged about three yards. Straight football marked the play, and the husky giants from the Bay State had to work for every point.

The next game was to be with Tufts, but owing to the weather conditions the game was cancelled, so the Garnet started working for their game with the Big Brown Bear at Providence. Bates played Brown as a part of the dedication of the new Stadium and they gave the Bruins a great battle. Except for the first and last five minutes of play, the Big Bears had all they could do to get any points over on the Garnet. There were many plays when the Garnet punctured the Brown line, but whenever they had a chance to score a strong defense turned them back. Captain Folsom watched the game from the sidelines, as he had a bad shoulder and side resulting from the game with the Aggies. The final score was 36-0, and although the score was high, the Bates team made a very favorable impression at Providence as being a great fighting team, with an indomitable spirit.

The next game outside of the State Series was with Rhode Island State at Kingston. The Little Rhodies were easy picking for the Garnet. The Bobcats handed the Rhode Islanders a 13-0 licking even though they were penalized something like 150 yards for offside play. The game was featured by the great end runs of Karkos and the Ray Brothers. The Garnet would make a 30 yard gain only to be called back for offside play, and the eagerness of the Garnet linesmen prevented a much higher score. Bates gained at will, and the Rhode Islanders never threatened the Bates goal at any stage of the game. The running of Charley Ray led many of the spectators to remark that he reminded them of the famous Brown halfback, Fritz Pollard, who was one of the greatest backs in the game about ten years ago.

The winning of the Bowdoin game marks the season as a success, but the ability of the Garnet to win two other games makes it a greater success. The team which represented the Garnet in 1925 was one of the best co-ordinated teams in the history of Bates. A new spirit and a new life was injected into the team. Never has a group of men worked with the same fire and spirit as that which marked the training of the team this year. The practices were not grinds, and every man was eager for the time to come when he could don his uniform and get to work. The result was plainly seen. From a group of men who were regarded as only fair material, Coach Wiggin moulded out the surprise team of the state.

Too much credit cannot be given to Coaches Wiggin and Cutts. Wiggin as the head coach, produced a team that seemed more like a group of pals and close friends, and the associations between the men and the coaches will always be remembered by them. Another feature of the year's work was the work of Trainer Jimmy Young. Jimmy accompanied the men on every trip, and was the life of the party. The trips were more enjoyable this year than ever before, and wherever the trainer went the boys were happy.

The spirit of the team was such that it would be improper to forget those who worked, but did not attain the honor of being awarded the Bates Varsity Football "B". From the start of the season the squad worked with great zeal, and every man gave what he had. There was a bond between players and coaches, and when the team went away, those who were left behind were already to start work again. There was no glory for them; it was all hard work, and they loved it, and to them goes much of the credit for the development of a fine team.

The Seniors who have earned their letter in football this fall are: Captain J. P. Folsom, Roy U. Sinclair, Charles Hinds, Lindley Hubbard, Earle Leighton, John B. Karkos, Stanley Williamson, Ronald Perham, and Manager George Jackson.

Bridgton, with a strong team, had already won three games, so that the Freshman victory over them was very creditable. Coburn threatened all the way, managing to score in the last thirty seconds of play. The Freshmen were weakened in this game by the loss of Snell, a tackle. The Kent's Hill game was a tough one.

Wood blocked a punt and Yamagiwa slipped through for seven yards and a touchdown in the final quarter. Hebron, with the best team in its history, was held scoreless for one period, but could not be stopped when it started scoring.

The outstanding Bobkittens were Captain Wood, Colburn, Snell, McElnea and Yamagiwa, all of whom should be of some help to the varsity next Fall. The team was composed of Colburn at center, Goody and Adams, guards, Snell and Wood, tackles; Ouellette and Tetreau, ends; Cole and McElnea, halfbacks; Gates, fullbacks, and Yamagiwa, quarter.

B. A. A. Team

The opening of the winter track season came February 6th when the Garnet entered the annual B. A. A. Games in the Boston Arena. Here Captain Jimmie Baker and his relay team duplicated the work of past teams when the Bates runners romped home easy victors over Mass. Aggies and Amherst. The work of the Garnet team might be called sensational in that the team was made up of Captain Baker, Stan Fisher, both of whom were veterans, and two men who had never competed in a relay race before. Wakely was working out for the first time as a relay man, and made his first appearance in a Garnet uniform and Lewis, although a candidate for the track team in his first three years was finally awarded the Bates "B" in his senior year for the fine work that he did in this race. Coach Jenkins, as usual, was the brains behind the race, and the Garnet mentor showed that he had the stuff when he brought home a winner when the outlook looked darkest.

Portland Legion

The annual Portland Legion Meet found Bates entering a two mile relay team. The team was composed of Arthur Brown, Wardwell, Wakely and Wills. The Garnet ran the University of Maine in this event and won it with ease. Arthur Brown started as lead-off man and handed over a slight margin to Wardwell who added twenty yards to the Bates lead. Wakely took the baton and lengthened the already long gap and gave the stick to Allie Wills who ran a great race, the Garnet leading the University to the tape by more than a lap. This was the first performance of the Bates two mile team, and they showed up well.

Penn. Team

Bates traveled to the Penn Relay Carnival this spring and outdid themselves by winning the Class Championship from Rutgers, and four other teams. Bates was not conceded to have a chance to repeat this spring, and the five consecutive victories were thought to be all that the Garnet could pile up, but the Garnet fliers upset the dope by winning the race after a gruelling contest with Rutgers who threatened in the last lap, but Fisher was able to stand off the sally of the Rutgers anchor man. Captain Baker lost a yard at the start and was boxed before the first turn was reached. On the back stretch the Garnet Captain pushed up into the front and handed over a yard to Wakely who, running a great race, gained a lead of over five yards. Wakely passed the baton to Wills who was running his first quarter mile in competition. Wills ran the 440 in 50 4/5 seconds and passed over a ten yard lead to Fisher who ran against one of the fastest quarter milers in the East. Fisher held his own and staved off defeat by keeping the lead and Bates won this event by four yards.

The four mile team placed fourth in one of the fastest fields that a Bates team has ever competed in. It was an experience for the Garnet to run this event and the Bates long distance men will make another bid for the honors in this event next year. The team which ran this event was composed of Brown, Wardwell, Ward, and Wills.

Bates met New Hampshire State in the annual Dual meet on May 1, and won a well-earned victory by a score of 73½ to 63½. The Garnet showed up well in every event with the exception of the pole vault. Five records were smashed in the course of the afternoon, and two of these were made by the Bates athletes. Art Sager broke the javelin record with a throw of 172 feet, and Bill Gallop smashed the mark for the hammer throw with a toss of 132 feet. Stan Rowe won the broad jump handily, none of his competitors giving him a strong fight for first place. In the distance runs Bates was again supreme. Allie Wills defeated Captain Peaslee of New Hampshire in a fast mile, coming from behind in the last two hundred yards to finish thirty yards in advance of the New Hampshire leader. Wills also won the half mile handily and was not forced hard to win his race. Bates took heavy toll in the hurdles, high jump, discus and weight events, and it was a well-balanced Bates team which brought home a well-deserved victory.

Bowdoin with a well-balanced team, won the State Track Meet at Brunswick, Saturday, May 15, scoring 53½ points, to 37 for Bates, 33½ for Maine, and 11 for Colby. Allie Wills was easily the star of the meet, romping to victory in a 4.21 3/5 mile, later winning the half in 1.59 3/5. Art Sager set the record in the javelin throw at 182 feet, 9 inches. Capt. Baker, with an injured knee, won his trial heat, and finished second to Tarbell of Bowdoin in the quarter mile final. Wardwell and Brown ran a heady race in the two mile, finishing close together, and easily defeating Brudno of Colby and Taylor of Maine.

Once again the Bates Cross-Country men brought home the New England Cross-Country Championship. The Bates team started off the year with the Maine Intercollegiates at Orono, and there the University of Maine pulled the prize package by taking the meet with the astonishingly low score of 19. Bates was second with 51 and Colby third. Bowdoin did not compete in the hill and dale sport this year. Conditions were not favorable to running on the day of the Maine Meet, and it just seemed to be a bad day for the Garnet runners, but they came home and started work harder than ever to stage their come-back in the New England Championships which were to be held in Boston the next week.

The Garnet pack was not conceded a chance of winning the meet at Boston, and there was great surprise about the campus when a wire came from Boston announcing a Bates Victory. The bell rang long and loud, and the next afternoon when the team returned they were given a welcome that only befits a championship team. The Garnet carried off New England honors with the score of 77, and M. I. T., her nearest rival, had 90. Allie Wills took second place in the meet, and Coach Jenkins had the Bates star act as pacer rather than go ahead and try for individual honors. The scheme worked to perfection, and the result was that the keeping of the men together was the cause of a Bates victory. The team finished in the following manner: Allie Wills second, Wardwell tenth, Arthur Brown ninteenth, Cyril Ward twenty-first, and Hobbs twenty-fourth.

Fresh from their victory at the New England Meet the Bates harriers started work for the National Intercollegiates at Van Cortland Park in New York City. In the National Meet Bates met the pick of the hill and dale teams of the country, Bates being the smallest college represented at the meet. Some of the teams that the Garnet competed with were Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Penn State, Columbia, Dartmouth and many others. Bates again pulled a great surprise by placing sixth in the team race against the greatest universities of the East. Syracuse won the meet with the low score of 47, upholding a reputation for being the greatest cross-country school in the East. Pittsburgh, another school famous for cross-country, came second, Harvard third, Maine fourth, Penn State fifth and Bates sixth. Some of the teams that Bates showed heels to were Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, M. I. T., and Rutgers. Allie Wills finished tenth in a field of the best cross-country men in the East, Wardwell twenty-fifth, Ward thirty-eighth, Hobbs forty-first, Brown sixty-fourth, and Hooper one-hundred and seventh. The fact that Bates could make such a fine showing in such competition speaks for itself. The Garnet has made a reputation in cross-country and it appears as though it is to be kept up.

The team was one of the best that Bates has ever sent out, and Captain Peck may well be proud of his pack of harriers. The sandy haired captain led a pack of great runners, and they deserved every honor that was accorded them. The outlook for next year is very bright. The team will lose Captain Peck, and John Miller through graduation, and this will leave Captain-elect Wills, Brown, Wardwell, Hobbs, and Ward, about whom Coach Jenkins can build up a strong team for the next season.

Freshman Cross-Country

The Freshman Cross-Country team had an unusual opportunity last fall to work under one of the greatest distance men that the United States has ever had. Ray Buker, who was the star 1500 metre man on the Olympic team was coach of the Freshman cross-country team, and from a group of runners, but one of whom had any experience in cross-country, he turned out a fine team. Of the five meets that the Kittens participated in they won two and lost three. The first meet came with Coburn Classical, and the Frosh nosed out the schoolboys by one point, the final count being Bates 28 and Coburn 29. The next meet found the Kittens again victorious, defeating Sabattus High School 22-33. Lisbon Falls High upset the dope when their harriers brought home a 27-30 verdict over the Bobcat Cubs. Hebron was the next team that ran against the Garnet and the boys from the Hebron hills brought a fine balanced team which won a close contest, the final score being 23-33 in favor of the prep school harriers. The final meet was with Edward Little High school, and the Eddies sneaked in a 26-29 victory over Coach Buker's charges. The outstanding man on the team was Captain Hobbs, and it looks as though he will follow in the footsteps of his older brother who was a member of the New England Championship team this year. The other members of the team were Larkin, Gray, Lyman, Rice, Chesley, and Perham.

Bates opened the baseball season this spring with a 15-5 victory over Bowdoin in the first game of the year. The encounter was an exhibition game and had no bearing on the State Series. The Bobcats had a great day, and had little trouble in piling up a lead that was hard to overtake. The Bates team with little practice put over the unexpected, and much to the surprise of the fans of the state the Garnet came through with a victory over a team which had previously played several games.

The second game of the year found Bates defeated 7-1 by New Hampshire State at Durham. The Bates team showed a lack of practice, but the loss of Charlie Small who sprained his ankle during the course of the game was the hardest blow. Small was kept out of the next game with Tufts which Bates lost 8-0 a few days later.

The State Series opened with Bates meeting the University of Maine. The Bobcats had a tough day at Orono and the University won a 9-2 decision and hopped into the lead in the State Series race.

Lowell Textiles visited Lewiston, May 7 and were taken easily by the Bobcats 10-2 in a slow game. Bates took hold of Diggi's offerings and pasted the Bay Stater to all corners of the lot.

New Hampshire State was the next opponent on the Bates schedule. The Blue and White won a close game from the Garnet 2-1, the game being the best of the season. Black pitched a great game allowing but five hits, but miscues at the wrong time gave the visitors the game.

The Garnet traveled to Waterville to meet Colby in the second State Series game of the year. The White Mule took a fall from the Bobcat and carried off a 9-3 victory. Charlie Small hurled but, having pitched but one inning all year, and standing on a bad ankle, he was not up to his usual style.

After getting away to a rather dubious start as a team of individual players, the Bates hockey team, responding to Coach Wiggin's plea for co-operation, came through the season to a grand finale with second place in the State Series.

The first three games were total losses. Falling in rapid succession before Bowdoin, St. Doms, and Williams, the team looked anything but promising. The outfit was made up of fast skaters and clever manipulators of the stick, but as a team there was something lacking. This missing cog in the machine was a pronounced indisposition to work as a unit. However, three defeats in a row had their results, and the gloom around the Bates camp began to lift.

The first light of hope came in the game with Union at Schenectady. Union had a great reputation and was expected to swamp the Garnet crew. But the old Bobcat had snapped out of its lethargy, and the new-born aggressiveness held Union to a two point margin.

The next day, on a field of poor ice at West Point, the Army team beat Bates by one lone point, 4-3. The Garnet team was getting under way and things were looking up.

An exhibition game with Bowdoin at the St. Dom. Arena found the Polar Bears still on top, but the Bobcat was an extremely improved animal from what it was in the first encounter with Bowdoin. The team was no longer a melange of fancy skaters but a hard working unit.

New Hampshire State, with an impressive record, fell in defeat before the attack of the hard skating Bates outfit. The dope had been upset and hope filled the heart of every Bates supporter. The path toward the championship was getting rosier.

The powerful Massachusetts Tech team was furiously clawed by the Bobcats, the score-board flashing a 5-4 score.

Bowdoin proved its claim to the Championship by again nosing out the Bates team. Sport writers prophesied that the Colby Mule would kick into second place in the series. But the Bobcat had a different story to tell.

In two sizzling games at the Arena, Bates fought into second place by conquering Colby 4-3 in the morning game and by holding her to a tie 2-2, in the afternoon game. The second game was the longest and most exciting battle ever waged between two college teams in Maine. It was a glorious finish to a season whose beginning had been most disheartening.

Captain Wyllie, in the cage, played a stellar game all season. He shared the spot-light with Foster, Erickson, and White—but the rest of the team, Sinclair, Chase, and Lane, were scarcely less brilliant. In short, it was a well-oiled machine, and Coach Wiggin should be complimented on his moulding a unit from an outfit of individual stars.

Freshman Hockey

The Freshman Hockey team, under the direction of Coach Ray Thompson, went through a short but unusual schedule this season. Of the four games played the Bob-kittens lost but one and the other three were deadlocks. The Kittens presented a fine array of talent, but the combination did not seem to have the necessary punch to sink the winning counter. The first game of the season was with Deering High, and the outcome was a 1-1 tie. The second game came with Cony High in which the Augusta schoolboys took the Kittens over, 2-0. The third game with Coburn ended after a hectic battle with the count at 2 all. The last game of the season found the Kittens crossing sticks with the championship high school sextet from Canton. The result of this clash was a scoreless tie. The team had several good players on the ice this year who will make a strong bid for varsity honors next winter. Coach Thompson deserves a lot of credit for producing a strong Freshman team from a squad with but few players of startling ability. The Freshman squad consisted of Hamilton at goal, Johnson center, Topolosky, Lambden, Daigle as wings; Pooler, Salter, Thomas, and Lane as defense men. All of these men showed much improvement as the season advanced and when next year's season rolls around Coach Wiggin will have on hand some experienced players to work with from the Freshman team of this year.

Although the season of 1924-25 consisted of setbacks, the team gained valuable experience in playing against many talented opponents. There were no men left by graduation who would aid materially the chances of the team in 1926.

The first match was a defeat at the hands of Bowdoin who came down with two stellar racquet wielders in Hill and Lord. Landman won the only match for Bates when he handily defeated his man in singles. In the State Tournament Captain Purinton and Gray drew Hill and Lord as their opponents and Bowdoin again triumphed. In the doubles the Garnet fared a little better. Captain Purinton and Gray faced Brown and Webber of Maine in the first round and defeated them 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, but were forced to bow to Cushman and Tolman of Bowdoin in the semi-finals.

The team then travelled to Tufts where they met the keenest competition of the year. The Tufts team was composed of stars of the first rank, and Bates could not take a match.

Bates was also represented in the N. E. I. T. A. tournament at Chestnut Hill, Boston. Gray faced Marinski of Brown in the first round and was defeated 7-5, 6-2 after a close first set, while Captain Purinton again drew Hill. The match was played on the indoor courts which was a handicap to the Bates man, and the Bowdoin star copped the decision.

Season, 1925-26

The chances for a successful tennis team in 1926 are bright as Captain Gray, Purinton, Landman and Davis remain from last year's team. A great battle was staged for fourth place among Davis, McCrae and Chung, the latter two players being ineligible last year on account of the one year rule. Thus far McCrae and Chung are about even, the former, however, having a slight edge.

The season opened auspiciously when the University of Maine went back to Orono with a 6-0 coat of whitewash. Chung was the only Bates man to lose a set, when he dropped the first one to Webber of Maine, but the Chinese player changed his driving tactics to the more conservative lob and won the next two sets rather easily. This was the first dual meet that a Bates tennis team had won since 1923, and the first shut-out for many years.

The second match of the year was played on the Bates courts with Colby as opponents, and the Garnet net-men came from behind to gain the verdict over the evenly-balanced Colby team by a 4-2 score. The match started poorly for Bates with both Colby doubles teams winning in straight sets, but the singles were a different story. McCrae started it by winning his first match from Cook of Colby 2-6, 6-3, 6-2. Captain Gray defeated Tattersall 6-4, 1-6, 6-1, while Purinton also took three sets to defeat Captain Macomber of Colby, then Landman clinched the match for Bates by defeating Nickerson of Colby 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

Speaking of thrills, one of the biggest thrills a girl gets is the one that her first appearance in her "B" sweater gives her. She has been working long and hard for it. She has kept training for weeks, taking icy showers, going to bed early, omitting candy from her diet, and otherwise restricting herself. She has hiked for miles. She has practiced diligently with basket, volley, soccer, hockey, and tennis balls. She has played in interclass games—played until she was nearly "all in" so that her team might win the championship, that goal of every class. Through the medium of these games she has developed quick thinking, co-operation, and a desire for fair play. She shows everyone by her "B" that she has strength and endurance, that she has pluck and courage, and, above all, that she has pride in her college.

In retrospect, the Athletic Board feels that 1925-1926 has been one of the busiest yet most successful years in women's athletics at Bates.

The Board has continued the policy of previous years, of making athletics a part of every girl's college life, giving each one—in interclass games, in the keeping of training, or in the strenuous program of hiking—the opportunity to build up, not only her body, but also wholesome ideals of character and good sportsmanship.

The department this year, has been most fortunate in having Miss Bass, a Wellesley graduate, as an additional instructor. Both she and Miss Francis have helped make the athletic schedule this year, one of the liveliest yet. A novel experiment has been the exhibition hockey game on Garcelon field of two varsity teams. This is merely indicative of the energy and activity of the instructors and of the whole athletic department in each successive sport.

The girls have grown to consider their coaches not simply as such, but as good friends and pals in a wholehearted way.

First Team Hockey

When the "all out for hockey" call came this fall, it was answered by many sport-loving girls—all eager to be in the game again. During four weeks of regular practice the veteran hockeyites recovered from a year's lay-off, while the Freshmen became very efficient in the use of the stick. Two weeks of rigid training and more practices put all teams in trim for the class games.

After much speculation as to their outcome the preliminaries were played resulting in the Seniors winning over the Juniors and the Sophomores over the Freshmen.

The Senior-Sophomore final game closed the season in grand style. Throughout nearly the entire game, in spite of much shooting on the part of both teams, no score had been made. With only fifteen more seconds to play the game still stood 0-0. It looked like an overtime period when a lucky shot by the Seniors got by the Sophomore defense and entered the goal. The final whistle! Ray! Seniors! 1925 Hockey Champs!

First Team Volley Ball

Volley Ball

The coming of the snow made it necessary for hockey to give place to an indoor sport—so volley ball, being next in order, occupied the three weeks before the Christmas vacation. Unlike the other sports, volley ball is not thought strenuous enough to require training, but in case a girl may voluntarily choose to do so, she receives an additional quarter stripe. While most of the girls feel that training is unnecessary for excellency in volley ball, they realize its value to themselves physically and accordingly elect it.

Second Team Champs, 1928

All of the preliminary games took place on Saturday, December 12, and as a result, on Monday, the Juniors lined up against the Sophomores for both the first and second teams championship contests.

Even though the Sophomore first team put up a good fight, the Juniors, with their strong serving and quick return, were too much for them and came out ahead, winning the championship.

Not satisfied with the result of the former match, the Sophomores came through in the second team contest and saved the reputation of their class by becoming the second team champions.

Basketball

Loud cheers and shrieks from the Rand gym. Shouts of "Shoot, Gert, shoot!" and "Stick to her, Betty." Then a long "Ah-h-h" of satisfaction from the Juniors as "Gert" piles up two more points. It is another basket ball game in progress. This year there have been more games than usual for instead of drawing for opponents each team has played every other until one has won two out of three games. The Juniors certainly earned the championship for a long hard-fought season. The Sophs also played a good game, and the Seniors tried hard but Nemesis had them in her clutches.

First Team Basketball

Everyone has worked and played hard to make the season a success, and they have succeeded. Basketball continues to be one of the most popular, if not the most popular, girls' sport.

The final wind-up came the evening of March 18th with the much anticipated basketball banquet. Miss Bass introduced another new feature when she announced the All-Bates Varsity Team. While this team does not actually play any game, it is quite an honor to be chosen for it. We hope the custom will continue.

Soccer

The girls always look forward greatly to getting out-of-doors for the spring sports. The first warm days find the tennis courts and the athletic field fairly alive. As usual, last spring, three sports were offered, tennis, track, and soccer, and judged by the number of participants, soccer seemed to be first in popularity.

After the required period for practice and training the games were scheduled for the first week of May. On Monday afternoon, May 4, the contest between the first team Seniors and Freshmen proved very exciting in spite of the fact that the game was new to the class of '28. However, in the end, the Seniors proved too much for the underclassmen and won by a score of 5-2 The Junior-Sophomore first team game followed and no teams were ever more evenly matched. When the final whistle blew the score stood 1-1. Four overtime periods failed to alter it, so an agreement was made to postpone playing for the time being.

On Tuesday afternoon, however, the contest was resumed. Luck seemed to favor the Juniors, on this day, and the period ended with the class of '26 victors by a score of 3-2. Next came the Junior-Sophomore game and in this the lower class showed its superiority over the '26ers by scoring two points to the latter's one.

The following day, in spite of a field very wet from rain, the championship games were played. The Senior first team met the Juniors in a hard-fought, closely-contested battle. Although at times it looked like anybody's game, the end came, making the Juniors champions after handing to the Seniors a 5-3 defeat.

The second team championship game followed and in spite of much sliding about on the part of both teams the final score was Sophomores 3, Freshmen 1.

Women's Gymnastic Meet

On Thursday evening, April 15, the Rand Gymnasium was again the scene of the Bates women's annual gymnastic meet. The program was as follows:

1.	Studies—Valse, Archer, Greek Ball Dance	Seniors
2.	Marching and Drill	Freshmen
3.	Moscow Golden City—Russian
	Arkadsky—Russian	Juniors
4.	Marching and Drill	Sophomores
5.	Klapdans—Swedish
	"If All the World were Paper," English	Freshmen
6.	Marching and Dumb Bell Drill	Juniors
7.	Clogging—Dixie, Mocking Bird, There was an Old Man,	Sophomores
8.	Chinese Lanterns
	Waltz Study	Juniors
9.	Apparatus Work	Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors
10.	Games	Interclass

At the close of the program Miss Francis made the awards of Silver Medals, "B" Sweaters and numerals to girls winning the required number of stripes.

As a climax she announced that not only had the Juniors won the gym meet itself, but that the silver cup, the reward for winning the largest number of championships during the past year, was also earned by that class.

First Team Champs, 1928

Winter Sports

Winter Sports has become a well organized and recognized sport in the athletic curriculum. It was recently made a major sport with the award of stripes and half stripes for first and second teams.

With the co-operation of the Outing Club in the use of its equipment and the splendid coaching of Matsunaga and other members of the Men's Winter Sports Team, a very successful year was completed. Bad snow conditions prevailing in the early part of March prevented the holding of the preliminary meet but stripes were awarded and class points decided upon in the final meet. The Sophomores won with 25 points, Freshmen next with 15, and Seniors 8.

The Women's Winter Sports Teams were unofficially represented at the Mechanic Falls' Carnival, from which they carried home the prizes. The season closed with a cabin party at Stanton Lodge.

Midyear Melancholy

Time: Any evening during midyears.

Place: Rand Hall.

Persons: Inmates of the institution.

Me (hopefully): "Room-mate?"

(No answer).

Me (again, pleadingly): "Sweetness?"

Sweetness (looking up sourly over her barricade of books): "What do you want now?"

Me: "I'm feeling so gregarious to-night and not a soul to talk to, everybody's actually wadin' neck deep in stars."

Room-mate (ferociously): "Don't talk to me or I'll bite!"

Me: "But room-mate,—Mac says it's a primary instinct and shouldn't be suppressed."

Room-mate: "Shut up!"

Me: "O deary me, what shall I do?"

(Door opens and a hypochondriac appears; you wouldn't recognize her condition, for she has a very stately air,—her lips are curled and we can guess that she has recently been disillusioned. She beckons to me mysteriously).

Hypo: "What are you doing to-night? Do come up and see me before you go to bed."

Me (feigning great industry): "—are proportional to the mean cubes, no,—to the cubes of their mean distances from the sun. I never can get that right. What did you say? Come up and see you? Wal, I'll think about it. Now run along and don't bother me, that's a good chile, and maybe I'll be up in a few minutes."

(I arrive a few minutes later to find the patient propped up in bed; she is staring with dry, tearless eyes at a framed photograph; she seems to find no hope there, casts it aside, and rocks back and forth in a paroxysm of grief).

Me: "Whasser matter, honey? Flunk your 'stronomy?"

She: "Yes, I did, and I don't give a—"

Me: "Norty, norty, honey! Muvver'll haf to get the scwubbin' soap for baby's mouf!"

She (tragically): "You're just as bad as the rest of them. Nobody will ever take me seriously; I wanted a little sympathy, but what's the use?"

Me: "Why—what is it? Anything I can do?"

She: "No, there isn't. Only tell me,—do you think I am the hatefullest girl on campus?"

Me: "Why—no—"

She: "Do you think I just love to say cutting things?"

Me: "Why,—the idea—"

She: "Do you think I think it's cute to be frank whether I hurt people's feelings or not? Don't you think I've got some feelings?" (warming up to her subject) "Don't you think—don't you—" (her imaginary catalogue has failed her, and she sinks back exhausted).

Me: "Why—"

She: "NObody thinks I ever feel bad because I don't scream and writhe all over the place every time anyone says anything that hurts me. I'll bet I've cried myself to sleep every night for a week. If the kids said half the things to you they do to me you'd be broken-hearted."

Me: "Why,—the very idea. They think you're great!"

She: "They don't either; every one of them hate me except my room-mate and she's out for the evening."

(This is a new idea and it strikes her so forcibly that she begins to weep copious tears).

Me: "I don't and I'm here" (offering my shoulder, but she disregards my kind advances).

She: "It's getting now so you can't trust anyone" (sniff-sniff). "Just as soon as your back is turned" (sniff-sniff) "they begin talking about you. They're a bunch of cats—the whole lot of them,—a bunch of cats!"

Me: "My dee-ah! What about friend Dot, she a cat?"

She: "N-o-o—I never said she was."

Me: "How about the kids down-stairs. They cats?"

She (meditatively): "N-o-o-o—"

Me: "Am I a cat?"

She: "Don't be silly—"

Me: "Then your beloved room-mate must be the feline,—how bad that child will feel when she knows—"

She: "Don't you dare to call my room-mate a feline—"

(Door opens and neighbors from across the way come dragging listlessly in).

1st: "Anybody here want to do Ed? I've got four whole pages,—and Mac only knows one new question every two years, so I guess we'll hit it all right if we go over these."

She: "Come on in—. I s'pose we might as well get it over with." (To me as I start to go—I've had my exam). "I've enjoyed our little talk. Come again. Good-night."

Me: "So have I. I will. Good-night."

A Drama in One Spasm

Scene. Doc. Britan's room.

Time: 9.00, any Monday, Wednesday, or Friday.

Doc. Britan (with a genial smile, accompanied by a great rubbing of hands): "Wal, what do we think of Spinoza this morning?"

Philosophy Class ensemble: "Yes."

The Doctor (somewhat disconcerted and ill at ease): "Wal, yes, yes, of course."

Mr. Smith: "It is inconceivable to me that a man, living in such close proximity with the material world, could possibly advance such a ridiculous theory. Now, for example, let us take his argument for the existence of—."

The Doctor: "Wal, now let's see."

Mr. Wilcox: "And then again, on the other hand, the facts of his theory are thoroughly in accord with scientific investigation. It has been definitely established in the physics laboratory that even the most minute sound waves will convey some—"

Dr. B.: "Wal, what is your conception of this theory, Mr. Gray? Do you notice any connection here with the philosophy of Descartes?"

Mr. Gray: "There seems to be something in common between the two, that is, as regards their conception of the ideal or conceptual world."

The Dr.: "Wal, do you mean that—"

Mr. Gray: "Or perhaps it was Berkeley that I meant. His ideas about, in fact, his entire philosophy seems to lean toward a more encouraging viewpoint toward life. As we—"

Doc.: "Wal, to, get back to Kant, (by the way, if a certain party cannot keep awake long enough to listen to the discussion, he may be excused for an indefinite period.)"

(Seven men and three women start violently and begin to take notes rapidly).

The Doctor: "Now, as I was saying, no doubt Hume has over-exaggerated the importance of the empirical self."

Miss Stackpole: "Do you honestly mean to say that there is no book on your desk, now?"

Dr.: "Wal, now of course, wal, yes, I am willing to state that the only, that is, aside from color and form, which are after all, the essence—er—er—wal, now let's see. Supposing—yes—Mr. Brown?"

(Brown replaces his watch in his pocket and launches into a somewhat lengthy and meaningless attack against Descartes' arguments for existence. This is broken off by the Doctor, who seizes his opportunity, while Brown is struggling with the pronounciation of a philosophical term.)

The Dr.: "Wal, what would Spinoza say about that?"

Osgood: "No doubt he would answer everything by classifying the ideal and material forces into a pluralistic union, controlled by one all-powerful monad. However, I do not entirely agree with his classification of the attributes of the irrational monads. There is such an intimate gradation between the rational and irrational monads that it is impossible to draw a sharp dividing line between their attributes, which in themselves possess a similar gradation."

Dr. B.: "Wal, you would not care to state, however, that the rational and irrational are on the same level. You are forced to admit that—"

(A great buttoning of coats and shuffling of feet drowns the Doc's voice.)

The Dr.: "Wal, perhaps we had better set a time for an extra meeting this week. How many will be able to come Tuesday at 3.30?"

(Violent outbursts of protestation.)

Doc.: "Wal, how about Thursday at 3.30?"

(More outbursts.)

(The bell rings and the class rises.)

The Doctor: "Wal, we'll leave it like that. I guess everybody can get here at that time."

Statistics

After a careful resume of the college year of 1925-26, a joint committee of students and faculty has compiled the following statistics:

That Dr. Frank D. Tubbs, 3 Duo Dillions Wood Street removed his glasses 587,943 times. (It has been estimated that the energy used up in this way would have been sufficient to push a Trenton truck from here to Danville Junction.)

That there were 208 snow shoe parties to Thorncrag the past winter John Gilman and Bardy Lombard were present at 98 per cent of these.

That during the week ending March 27, one-half cake of Palmolive soap was used on the third floor of West Parker.

That "Lin" Herrick washed his ten thousandth saucer at Annie's Lunch on May ninth.

That three senior men were satisfied with their ranks and that they stated that they had received a square deal from the profs. (Impossible to discover their names).

That 973 ping-pong balls were used at Chase Hall during the past season.

That on the date of February 10, Bill the Barber threatened for the forty-third time to install the Police Gazette in his shop.

That chalk was found in the Chase Hall poolroom two days in succession during the past year.

That if Dr. Britan's "wells", were placed end to end, they would reach from the campus end of Mountain Ave. to the Town Clerk's desk in Brattleboro, Vt.

That Nola Houdlette remarked to her 400th senior: "You can't graduate. Ha. Ha."

That 17 cigarette butts were found in front of Roger Williams Hall. (Passers-by should be more careful.)

That seven-eighths of the senior women endorse Woodbury's Facial Soap.

That 1,047 fines were collected at Coram Library. 123 of these exceeded 50 cents—221 were 25 cent fines and the balance ranged from 2 to 25 cents The aggregate sum of these fines would be sufficient to provide seven Armenians with rations of corn mush, twice a day, for a period of three years.

That, if the total number of those served at the college commons during the months, March, April, and May, were seated at a table nine miles long, they would reach—across the table.

That 2,248 bridge games were played in Chase Hall basement during the winter season. Forty-nine of these broke up in heated discussions and blows were actually struck in twelve of these.

In Rand Hall

(I wander disconsolately down the corridor until I see a beckoning light and hear the murmur of friendly voices. As I open the door a dozen seniors are chanting solemnly):—

Hoss—hosses—hossie—hoss.
Hoss—hosseye—hossoom—hoss.

Me: "That sounds great, girls, only a little too minor or melancholy or something to be cheerful, don't you think?"

Ann (solemnly): "Oh, no! All the great singers sing in the minor key. You show 'em, Babe."

(Babe starts singing, unaccompanied, the alto to 'The Lord is My Shepherd').

Lois: "Aw, shut up, Babe; we've heard that before. See?"

Babe: "No kiddin',—you'll probably hear—"

Ellie (with briskness): "Come girls, let's concentrate and learn a few of these lives; we haven't done a thing since dinner."

Ginnie: "Let's not.—One of the girls wrote the same life four times last year and got an A. I know two,—I guess I'll pass. But, darn it all, he does look at the books. Here, I'll ask 'em." (very loudly) "Life on the Mississippi?"

Chorus: "Mark Twain."

Gin: "Old Jed Prouty?"

Chorus: "Richard Golden."

Gin: "The Old Homestead?"

(This evidently stirs a host of fond recollections, for chorus begins to chant in perfect harmony—THIS:

Ann: "I do wish you girls'd shut up, I'm so busy with my 'stronomy. Say, do any of you know Theophilus?"

Dot (without interest but politely): "What about him?"

Ann: "He's like this 'stronomy,—the awfulles' mess I ever saw." (Loud laughter).

Gin: "I don't see the joke. Tell me the joke, somebody, quick! What's the joke?"

Ellie: "'oo let 'oo Ellie tell 'oo. She'll 'splain it to her Ginnie." (She 'splains carefully several times in detail).

Ginnie (five minutes later): "Haw, haw,—that's a good one, Ann, no kiddin'". (And she goes off chuckling. I've had my English exam and don't need to study any more so I leave, too, to seek a less studious atmosphere. As I pass the room of one of my friends, I see her through the half open door. She is sitting at her study table in a disconsolate lump; her chin is propped on her hands. She is the figure of despair. A heart of stone could not withstand such misery. I go in).

Me: "Wasser matter with you, honey? Sick or something?"

She (in a voice shaking with gloom): "I'm the biggest fool—"

Me: "Is that all? I'm disappointed, I thought something was the matter."

She: "Why! You great big ninny! Come back here this minute!"

Me: "Well, own up! What you been doing to your poor old Daddy?"

She: "Er—you see, I-er- wrote him this letter,—it was pretty awful, and he's taking his mid-years."

Me: "Dumbell! Well?"

She (abjectly): "It's all off between us."

Me: "For how long,—a week?"

She (wailing in a heart-breaking crescendo): "There now, you're laughing at me, and I'll never confide in you again."

Me: "Aw, go on! It can't be that bad."

She: "Yes, it is— It's worse. It's all off for-ever! Oh de-ah, dee-ah, deee-ah!" (Her shoulders work up and down convulsively; you can see that she has succumbed to her grief, but under the influence of my soothing hand her convulsive sobs change gradually into convulsive snores,—and I creep out, lean weakly against the wall for a moment to get my bearings, then head me straight for Ann's room. I must be cheered up before I go to bed, or that exam in the morning— - - - - - The light still shines over the transom despite the lateness of the hour, so I enter. Ann and Dot Priest are standing, pale and quaking, in the middle of the room. A few friends are grouped silently around, staring at them with the profoundest sympathy).

Me: "What on earth is the matter now?"

Ann: "Just look at me! Just feel of me" (She extends one shaking limb. I feel of it; it is quaking like an earthquake). "I never felt so funny in all my life! I know I'll never be able to face that woman again. Why, I feel just as though I'd been stealing or something."

Me: "You certainly look it, so's Dot. What's happened?"

Ann: "You tell her, Lo, I can't. Honest, I don't feel as though I could ever hold up my head again. I'll never live it down."

Lois (consolingly): "Aw, gwan, you'll forget it in a week, no kiddin'! It's this way.—When Margaret's mother left yesterday, Ma forgot to lock up the guest room, so Ann and Dot thought they would go in and try out the bed. They were lying there just as comfortable, when in came Ma and Dean Pope, hand in hand. Their hair was streaming down their backs and Ma was the maddest thing, no kiddin',—"

Ann: "She was trembling all over, she was so mad, and she says to us,—'What on earth are you Seniors doing in here?'"

Dot: "And Ann says, 'We're trying out the bed, Miss Roberts'—and—"

Ann: "—and Ma says—'How did you ever dare to come in here?'"

Lois: "And how could you ever take the liberty?"

Ann: "Then she says—'I guess I can't trust any of you Seniors any longer,—hereafter I'll have to lock everything up,—'" (She is interrupted by the sounds of squeakings and bumpings in the hall. The door opens and reveals two pajama-clad figures tugging in a bed).

1st: "Right under our window,—we heard him and turned out the light, and looked out of the window—and there he was—!"

1st: "Sitting right in the snow—"

2nd: "And if you think we're going to sleep alone tonight you're mistaken!" (Ann looks at Dot, Dot looks at Ann. They both look at me. I am doubled up with a mixture of emotions. It is too much.—Curtain drops as they burst simultaneously into loud wails).

Ode to Unsung Heroes

Illi robur et aes triplex circum pectores erat eorum hominum.

Of football heroes tried and true,
Of stars in track and hockey too,
Of victories on baseball field
And feats of those who rackets wield
Sing not, O Muse, but lift thy voice
In praise of those who have no choice
Except to walk o'er wintry lea
In search of credit for P. T.

At four o'clock the crew was there
Well clad in heavy underwear.
The Roger Bills were in the van
And followed by two Seniors wan,
While at the head stood sturdy Cutts
Who gave the word to snap the butts.
And then these words he gruffly spake
That made the Seniors shrink and quake:
"Now, men we're out to beat the pace
Set Tuesday, by Professor Chase.
It's sure to be a tough, long grind
To face this bitter, stinging wind;

But men, I know you've got the guts!
Fight on and on!;" thus spake the Cutts.

Just then a voice from near the rear
Exhorted for a lusty cheer.
A score of shouts did rend the air
But not from those two Seniors there.
They did not shout, they did not sing,
They did not feel the welkin ring
With cries of "Fight". They only heard
A muffled curse, and then the word
That rallied back, "Fight on! Fight on!"
The sun was sinking in the west.
The Cutts threw out his manly chest
And ripped two buttons from his vest,
Then bellowed back to all the rest:
"Fight on! Fight on! Fight on!"

For miles they walked, the pace was fast,
And these two Seniors were the last
Of that game crew that struggled on
When strength, yes, even hope was gone.
And then the good McDonough spoke:
"We're far behind, let's have a smoke."
Then Gray replied, "Let us play fair
With Ollie Cutts, for he is square."
Then down the straggling rank was flashed
The word, that Carver had been gashed
With jagged ice. And thus he sank
Full length upon the frosty bank
While on and on the party strode
Oft stumbling, down the rutted road.
The hills were steep but up they went
Then poor McDonough cried, "I'm spent!
I can't go on! I'm licked! I'm through!"
But Gray stood firm. "You will be true
To Bates. Buck up, and carry on,
More fame to us with battle won."

Stygian shadows of despair
Enwrapped the hearts of that grim pair.

The biting cold benumbed their feet
That faltered now—and once so fleet!

The shades of night were falling fast
When from the wooded trail they passed
And lo, behold! there gleamed a light
That beckoned them, a beacon bright,
That twinkled like a blood-red star:
They ran—they caught—the Main Street car.

Our Art Gallery

Since you Seniors came to college
Every Prof has done his part
To make you pay a visit
To our Gallery of Art.

Their advice has gone unheeded,
So without further deviation
I'll describe the major works
To complete your education.

A kind be-whiskered gentleman
Is looking down the hall
At the pugilistic cherubs
Cavorting on the wall.

Old Homer, in iron sorrow,
And a lady, sugary sweet,
Are gazing with assiduity
On what might have been their feet.

Their heads with bands and pine cones
Respectively are bound;
And perhaps it's just as well for them
They're looking at the ground,

For you couldn't predict the outcome
If their eyes should ever meet,—
I'm sure he'd lose his gravity,
And she'd want a pair of feet.

Just above, a soulful lady
Is playing as she sings,
Her eyes are raised to Heaven,
Her fiddle's minus strings.

Poor Venus by the doorway
Is looking well-nigh froze,
For she's lost a couple of her hands,
And nearly all her clothes.

But the prize of the exhibit,
As one can plainly see,
Is a scene between Diana
And her plaster Mercury.

He is gazing at her boldly,
With the greatest admiration,
And proffering a plaster rod
For his sweetheart's delectation

She glowers at him scornfully,
And is reaching for a quiver
To check his rude advances,
But he doesn't even shiver.

And fine old Uncle Johnny
Is beaming into space,—
A pretty decent thing to do
For one who's in his place.

Glaring at this sportive bunch
With a look of deep disgust
Is stern old Charlie Sumner,—
Or rather—his marble bust.

I haven't nearly space enough
To give you all the details
Of the odd arrangement
Of those plaster males and females;

But whoever did it all—
It's plain as plain can be,
That they had a wicked eye
For arranging crockery.
